"TENSUN" FLYERS! WILL HAS TIP FOR LOCATING AIRPORTS

(Special to The News)
BEVERLY HILLS, Cal., Aug.
29.—The Zep in taking off here in Los Angeles just missed spoiling a great trip and killing everybody by missing a high tension line surrounding the field.
Towns bury their dead but they never bury their electric lines.

There is one sure fire method for a pilot in a strange town that don't know where the field is located. Locate a high tension line, follow it till it crosses another higher tension one. There is almost sure to be a field there. If not, follow it till it comes to an intersection of three or more lines and there will be located the city's municipal field.

It's a sure-fire method as locating a speak-easy, by following the town's leading citizens.

Yours,
WILL.

PA NEW OBSERVES

Young Pa New saw an auto with a huge balloon tied to the motor, last evening, while coming home from the fair. A small dog inside the car was much excited about the unusual appearance of the hood of his car.

The taxi-cab drivers and the bus drivers at the fair are having great competition among each other.
When a prospective customer comes into view, the drivers yell, "Room for one more passenger, here." Or when two people pop up the drivers yell,
"Just room for two more passengers here."

Sound sleepers are rather chagrined today, because they slept through the period when the Graf Zeppelin sailed over the city this morning.

The visit of the Zep was unexpected, as the indications yesterday was that the dirigible would not come near this city in its flight eastward.

Some of those who rushed out to the street when they heard the motors of the dirigible were half dressed, and some were even less scantily clad.
But they didn't seem to care, they wouldn't miss the chance to see the Zeppelin.

Down at the telephone exchange there was a traffic jam like the hour after a football game. Everybody that had been awakened by the noise of the approaching Zeppelin tried to raise someone else by telephone.
There was only a period of about fifteen minutes or so that the Zeppelin was in this vicinity so it can be imagined what the telephone central was like.

New Castle fair this year is offering some unusual features. The program yesterday afternoon had a lot of real interest. The relay race of the civic clubs was an epic in "slow motion," on the part of some.

The traffic light has been erected at Laurel and Highland avenues, as well as at Park and Highland, and it is expected that these lights will be in operation by the time the school starts, and will check any semblance of fast driving in the vicinity of the Highland public school.

Were you to count every attendant at the New Castle fair at least one in every 20 would be a candidate for office. While the sun failed to shine yesterday, they made "hay" just the same. Pa New hurriedly counted 15 of them in just one stroll down the midway. And there were others we missed.

Judging by calls at The News this morning, there were hundreds in New Castle who saw the Graf Zeppelin go over the city this morning.

While the Los Angeles didn't fly over this district yesterday as fore-

SCRANTON, Pa., Aug. 29.—With American Legion was formally open-

The "Forty and Eight" and the "Eight and Forty" divisions of the

These organizations owe their pecu-signs read; "40 Horses—3 Men."

CIVIC CLUB SPEED DEMONS STEP INTO LASTING FAME IN BIG OUTBURST AT FAIR

In the bright history of racing there have been some epic struggles. Not alone horse racing, the question before the house is races, any kind, horse, dog, steamboat or human.

Perhaps you remember that race from the battle of Marathon when the young Greek ran something over 26 miles and then curled up like a celluloid collar. Or the race between the Natchez and the Robert E. Lee, two of the Roman chariot races.
Or some of the Roman chariot races.

They were pretty good races in their day. But from now on when you mention racing, put a new one at the top of the list, the relay race at the New Castle Fair on Wednesday. A half mile of speed, with 16 lineal descendants of Mercury throwing dust in each other's faces.

The race was held for civic clubs and four organizations were entered.
The Rotary, the Lions, the Retail Grocers and the Granges. If you haven't time to finish this tome, know then that the Grange boys led the field, but don't go way, drop down to the next paragraph.

The idea was that each one of the entries would run an eighth of a mile and if he didn't drop dead before he reached the quarter pole he handed his colleague a ribbon or a stick or a sock in the whiskers or something he could carry on.

DUAL PITTSBURGH CRIME MURDER AND SUICIDE

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Aug. 29.—Murder and suicide was the verdict of the coroner investigating the deaths of Miss Margaret Nelmetz, 28, and Hays Ray Fry, of Turtle Creek, who were found shot to death in an automobile parked along a road in Wilkins township last night.

While county detectives agreed with the opinion of Deputy Coroner John McQuaid, they said there was no indication whether the girl died first or whether Fry was shot and Miss Nelmetz took her own life. The revolver was found under the body of the man which was across the lifeless form of the girl.

The bodies were found by two men returning from work. The men, Albert Wright and his uncle Matthew Wright, said they had noticed the car parked on the secluded road as they went to work yesterday morning.
When they saw that it was still in the same place last night, they said, they investigated and found the bodies.

Deputy Coroner McQuaid estimated that the couple had been dead at least 30 hours. Cursory examination showed that the woman's index finger was crooked in death as if she had pulled the trigger of the gun just before she died. Fry's fingers were in a normal position although rigor mortis had set in several hours before the bodies were found.

Police today were questioning friends and relatives of the couple in an effort to ascertain a motive for the deaths. Police said indications were that the shootings resulted from a lovers quarrel.

Rumors Spread About Palestine

Sinister Reports Indicate General Uprising Is Being Planned

(International News Service)
JERUSALEM, Aug. 29.—While sporadic conflicts between Moslems and Jews continued throughout Palestine today sinister reports were heard of preparations for a general uprising of Moslems throughout Arabia.

The population of Jerusalem has been reduced to a state of deepest trepidation by recurring rumors of Arab concentrations at strategic points thro-out the territory, and frantic appeals are being made for additional forces of troops to protect the Holy Land from invasion.

Rebels in the outlying sections of Palestine are reported to have been stirred by demonstrations by Arabs in Syria, and there is a genuine fear here that the Moslem hordes may shortly attempt an assault upon Jerusalem.

With the weather much warmer and better racing attractions card-should see an immense crowd inside the grounds today. Wednesday was a good day, the attendance was gratifying, but today should see the total far surpassed.

Not only was the attendance on Wednesday good, but the night fair attracted a crowd. At nine o'clock the parking enclosure looked as full as it has on some of the days of the fair in other years, and apparently this year the night fair arrangement is going to "click."

Feature Events Today
The one event that will stand out today will be the 2:10 pace, with Myr-

Worthy Lord of New Castle picked to load the field. This race will be in the nature of a two-horse race between these two pacers, for J. W. Hartwell feels that today is the day when his horse will really show. Worthy Lord has won seven out of 11 starts this season, while Myrle Baxter was a

New Farm Board Is Deadlocked On Wheat Issue

Serious Discord Heard On Matter Of Organizing
Wheat Stabilizing Corporation

WHEAT SITUATION GROWING DESPERATE

Immediate Financial Aid Is Requested To Aid Big Wheat-Growers

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—The Federal Farm board, charged with placing American agriculture back on its economic feet, has run into a serious deadlock in its efforts to organize a wheat stabilization corporation for marketing this year's wheat crop, it was learned today.

The deadlock, growing out of agricultural opposition to the board's proposal for establishing a stabilization corporation, has led to demands that the farm board abandon the plan and extend immediate financial aid to wheat-growers through their own cooperative associations. An appeal for this immediate relief will be carried to President Hoover by spokesmen for the wheat-growers.

Prices May Collapse Reports from the wheat belt have indicated that millions of bushels of wheat are now being dumped into the market, with more to follow. If this dumping continues for another month, government experts said, wheat prices will collapse and the proposed federal aid rendered useless.

The whole wheat situation has been discussed by representatives of the farm board and spokesmen for the farmer's cooperatives at a series of conferences in Chicago. There, the cooperative spokesmen indignantly rejected the plan suggested by the farm board for creating a wheat stabilization corporation. The farmers argued the plan would give the farm board the power to destroy their cooperatives, to veto all their own relief measures and to control their organizations. Hence, they rejected the plan. The negotiations, however, will continue.

Voters of New Castle are registering today, but not in any unusual numbers, according to reports from registry booths. The change in location of many of the places, the redistricting of election precincts, and the New Castle fair may be attending causes of the light registration.
Another reason may be that most people are leaving the matter go until this evening.

One precinct had to be changed at the last minute. The first precinct of the Second ward, which has been located in the store of J. V. Sypher on North Mill street, was changed to the store of Charles T. Metzler.

William J. Eakin, chief clerk to the county commissioners, has had a number of calls for instructions from registrars today, but nothing serious developed, and the minor tangles were straightened out over the telephone.

The evening hours for registration are from 5 o'clock until 11. Daylight Savings Time. While there are two other days upon which to register, September 3 and September 14, it is urged that every voter who can do so, get registered today.

Those who are not assessed can qualify up until September 4th. After that they will not be able to get assessed for registration for the primary on September 17.

GRAF ZEPPELIN ROARS OVER NEW CASTLE AT EARLY MORNING HOUR

The Graf Zeppelin, largest of present day air liners, paid a surprise visit to New Castle at 2 o'clock this morning. The big dirigible that has circumnavigated the globe in 21 days and 7 hours, sailed over the city in a northeasterly direction.
Zooming through a murky low-cast sky the big ship, speeding on its way to Lakehurst, N. J., racing against time, hoping to establish a new record the world record, soared over the city and those who happened to be awake received the biggest thrill of a lifetime.

Five motors of the Graf were humming a perfect staccato as the big ship came out of the west from the direction of Youngstown and headed over the north hill section of the city. Five tiny lights were distinguishable as the Graf, at a fairly good rate of speed, slithered gracefully through the night.

Hog Calling Contest Unique Fair Feature

That classic of popular music, "Let Me Call You Sweetheart" was sung in a different manner and in five different keys at the New Castle Fair Wednesday afternoon. It should now read, "Let Me Call You—Sweetheart" and the calling was done from the acrobatic platform of the race track.

The Hog Callers had their place in the sun, or their day in court, if you ever studied law, and after hearing those five dulcet voices calling for a lot of pigs knuckles on the hoof, it isn't any wonder that hogs have flat snoots. They get that way trying to dig their way out of hearing.

Sweet and Low
The calls were done sweet and low and high and hard. Every key from low C to high Q with the tremolo stop pulled clear out. And if there were any hogs within eight blocks they must have gotten homesick.

Five callers answered the starter's command. Five, count them, ladies and gentlemen of the radio audience and every one of the five a veteran hog caller. They were E. Herman Kempermer from Slippery Rock, C.
Everett Boak from New Castle, R. D.
W. M. C. Drake from beyond New Castle somewhere, Francis McCracken and J. N. Fullerton of Edinburg.
Kempermer modeled first and this gentleman is more than a hog caller—he is and was an actor. There was puffos in his voice, promise and pleading, a hint of hot mash and a sizzling knife, and before he was through every lover of side meat was looking for the hogs.

It Is Announced

Work is to be started on the construction of the connecting link of Volant, during the coming week, according to announcement made today.

The contract was recently awarded, and the contractor will begin the hill during the next few days.

It is expected that the work will be pushed as rapidly as possible. There are several miles of road to be im-link between New Castle and Volant, via East Brook. The contract was awarded for the entire section. Some of the concrete may be laid yet this fall.

Not since the days of the Armistice has the local office of the Bell Telephone company experienced such a heavy calling load as that which occurred this morning between the hours of seven and eleven a. m.

William R. Bingham, district manager of the company stated that this condition no doubt was due to the passage of the Graf Zeppelin over New Castle early this morning. Extraordinary events such as this always reflect themselves in an extremely heavy telephone load as was the case this morning.

Generally there are about 21,000 calls passing through the switchboard during these hours, but today, there were between 29,000 and 30,000 local calls handled.

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 29.—The Graf Zeppelin, which concluded its round-the-world jaunt today at Lakehurst, N. J., crossed Pennsylvania in the dead of night, its twinkling lights being seen by comparatively few persons.

The Graf swung over Pennsylvania from Akron, O., appearing over New Castle at two a. m. and then making a bee-line for New York City. Although hundreds of strong-hearted aviation enthusiasts stayed up to catch a glimpse of the mighty ship, the number to witness the passage of the ship over the state was limited to only three hardy souls.

The Graf was next reported seen over Bellefonte and then passed over Sunbury. The next report was that the ship circled Allentown and proceeded to New York City, where it was seen at seven a. m. The trip across Pennsylvania was made in approximately five hours.

ITALIAN WARSHIP ARRIVES ON SCENE

(International News Service)
CAIRO, Aug. 29.—The danger to Jerusalem from advancing Moslem hordes was increased today with the report that Sultan Pasha El Atrash, leader of the warlike Druse tribes, fiercest warriors of all the Arab Legion, was preparing to advance upon the Holy Land.

Reports prevalent in usually well-informed circles said that El Atrash, famed throughout Arabia for his bravery and courage, was leading thousands of followers for an advance upon Jerusalem from Trans-Jordan. El Atrash justifies his reported advance as being in defense of the Mosque of Omar in Jerusalem, most sacred of Arab shrines in the Holy Land.

The Mosque of Omar adjoins the famous walling wall, the Jewish shrine where the first outbreak between Moslems and Jews in the present uprising took place.

The report of the Sultan's preparations caused considerable consternation here, as it came on the heels of reports that Arab tribes throughout Trans-Jordan and Syria were massing for a march toward Jerusalem while some engagements have already taken place between Bedouins and British troops on the Trans-Jordan frontier.

An Italian warship has arrived at Beirut, Syria, to protect the interests of Italian Nationals there. The vessel will undoubtedly cooperate with French troops in Syria in quelling the rebellion which is threatening.

Distance covered: 20,000 miles.
Time in air: 288 hours, 31 minutes.

Damage to the Edwards home is reported to be about $2,000. It is said that neighbors in the vicinity heard several persons running from the scene a short time before the explosion.

Officers Act Quickly Immediately upon receipt of the message County Detective William C. Flaming and State Officer Schuler rushed to Hillsville, but as is usual in bombings, no clues were left, the dynamic destroying it. From then on until daylight the two officers worked on the case and were able to run down several clues. They are still working on the case today.

Constable Edwards is working on the case in conjunction with county officials, and there are indications that an arrest may be made in the near future.

No one will be left unturned to approach the members of Constable Edwards' home.

Citizens of Hillsville are indignant over the outrage. Mr. Edwards has been a peace officer for many years and in that time has enjoyed the respect of the law abiding citizens of Hillsville and Mahoning Township. The attempt to destroy him has aroused the residents out there, and they will aid the officers insofar as it is possible.

training for six weeks in the wilds of the Allegheny mountains. Their faces looked every day of it all of them resembling Ben Purnell of the House of David.

The boys had been trained on wild cats and from spring water. As the race terminated they should have been trained on steel spring water. They were garbed like a fashion plate from a booty hatch, with De Luce Cole wearing his red flannels. With Cole were Art Dean, Ben Baer and Harold McCullough.

The Lions were represented by Tom Elliott, John Ellison, Dick Wagner and Bill McCormick. The Retail Grocers by Archie Padlock, Cohen, Ed. Duzowski, Nat. Hunkonen and Frank Hill. The Grange boys were Everett Doak, Harold Burton, S. J. Knepper and C. J. McAuley. Four of the competitors lined up at the judges' stand, four at the quarter post, four at the half and four at the three-quarter.

They're Off!

The boys dig in, with Cohen taking 10 per cent more for cash. Cole stood straight up, facing the track fearlessly, and the other two shook out enough dirt to bury an Alameda dog. At least a turley.

They're off and down the dirt track they start moving so fast that fourteen cameras didn't catch them. Tom Elliott remembered some cigars he had in his pocket and protected them at the cost of speed. The only runner in the first four was the Grange representative, who ran like a steer in a cornfield.

The second lap, and the third one. By this time the Rotary contingent looked as if it had developed fallen arches or the heaves or something, with the Grange lads still running like a tax meter.

The last lap saw a burst of speed on the part of Frank Hill, who put all of his 97 pounds four ounces into the job of overtaking the Grange representative. He had as much chance as a five-ton truck would have on the Indianapolis speedway.

The Granger breezed in with plenty of room to spare, and at dusk the Rotarian delegation was still struggling out in the back stretch.

It was a rare, old timer, never forget that, and after the city lads have oiled up their creaking joints, and the doctor says he thinks everything will be all right, they will tell you how those farm lads took them to town.

demanding that the board take other steps in the handling of the present crop in an orderly manner. The principal use of credits, under the circumstances, would be to store the wheat surplus until such a time as the market could absorb the entire crop without demoralizing prices.

"The draft of by-laws and articles of incorporation suggested to the wheat cooperatives met instant opposition among the wheat-growers," said Nye in explaining his position. "If a wheat stabilization corporation could be organized, it undoubtedly would give relief to wheat-growers. But while this disagreement exists, wheat is being marketed and prices are declining. The farmer should get $1.75 for his wheat and the market now is around $1.30."

"In the absence of a stabilization corporation, federal aid ought to be extended directly to the wheat cooperatives. Then the cooperatives could hold wheat off the market and prices would be stabilized."

May Enlist Hoover.

Congress provided for the relief measure suggested by Nye. A portion of the $500,000,000 revolving fund was set aside specifically for loans to cooperatives. Unless such step in the immediate future, congressional leaders—headed by Nye—will ask the president to intervene in behalf of immediate relief for the wheat-growers.

Taxidermist Gives Identification For Prof. Syling's Bug

County Superintendent John C. Syling's suspicion that the peculiar little bug he captured last Monday evening at the meeting of the Slippery Rock township school board, is a mole cricket, seems to have some foundation in fact.

In a letter to The News today, Alex. Robertson, taxidermist of Pultaski states that he believes the bug to be a mole cricket and goes on to say that they are rare in this part of the country.

Mr. Syling is awaiting the report of Dr. Joseph Schmucker, entomologist of West Chester State Teachers College, to whom he sent the bug.

the cow calling contest, which will be conducted between heats. After the success of the hog calling contest on yesterday, the cow calling contest of today should attract many. There will also be a prize for the shortest married couple on the ground. For these latter two contests The News is offering a ten dollar prize each.

The fair officials have expressed themselves as mightily pleased with the crowds attending the fair so far. The exhibits are crowded all day long. The midway is getting its share of the business, and the folks are enjoying themselves.

The fair will be open tonight with a group of clever acts as the attraction in the grandstand, and the fair will close Friday evening.

The revolt appears to be spreading, although for the moment British troops have been able to maintain a minimum in the patrolled districts. It is feared that the uprising may take hold in the outlying sections where military forces are small, and that concentration of tribes for an invasion of the Holy City will result.

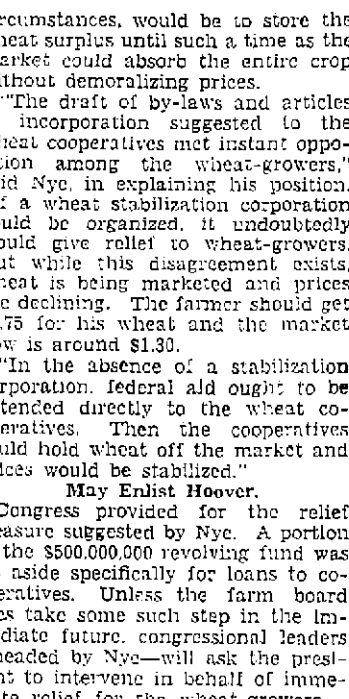

Additional reports of skirmishes between British troops and Arabs on the Trans-Jordan frontier near the Allenby bridge have been received here, and it is rumored the French authorities are having difficulty keeping the Arabs in check in their mandated territory of Syria.

Deane graduated from Yale in 1913, after which he taught for four years at Roberts College, Constantinople. STAR LORE SEEING MARS THROUGH THE TELESCOPE

By Arthur DeV. Carpenter.

The appearance of the planet Mars as seen through a telescope may best be understood by describing it as a clear globe comparable to the moon, having an irregular dark belt encircling its equatorial region with the major part of the belt lying in its southern hemisphere. South of the belt appears a beautiful white glistening polar ice snow-cap. The markings on the belt reveal the rotation of the planet hour by hour as they shift from west to east. The seasonal color changes are most noticeable along the dark belt. The polar ice caps shrink or expand in diameter in accordance with the seasons.

Hand to the Plough.
Make Him a Broker.
What-A Bargain.
Big Business Rolls On.

By ARTHUR G. BRISBANE
(Copyright, 1929, King Features Syn. Inc.)

Jews in America and other countries, worried about co-religionists in Palestine, may find comfort in the fact, as regards future events, that the British empire cannot allow Arabs to defy British authority.
Let Jerusalem riots get beyond control, and the Moslem world becomes convinced of its ability to defy the British, or convinced that the British have had all the fighting they want, and there will be trouble, serious and widespread.
The Jerusalem riots involve not merely the safety of Jews in Palestine but the safety of the British empire wherever Mohammedans are numerous.

Lord Rothermere's newspapers suggest that Britain repudiate the Palestine mandate and wash its hands of the whole responsibility.
Before repudiating a mandate solemnly, as suggested, Ramsay MacDonald's government should read again the last five verses of the ninth chapter of St. Luke, including these lines:
"No man, having put his hand to the plough and looking back, is fit for the kingdom of God."
If you think prosperity will continue—as it will unless foolishness interferes—buy your little boy a seat on some stock exchange.
He will make money as a broker, and his seat while he sits in it may make him rich apart from his own work.
You can't say that of many seats.

Chicago's Exchange seats are to be doubled in number, from 235 to 470, rich gift for the 235.

Stock exchange seats in Los Angeles, San Francisco, Seattle, are doubling and tripling in value.

A stock broker has such a "clean" business, buying and selling as ordered, a profit on every transaction. Wise brokers don't gamble. They let customers do that.

It is suggested that Newfoundland will sell Labrador to Canada for $100,000,000. This country would gladly buy it, but could not. It would not be sold outside the British empire, which shows wisdom.

The suggested sale reminds you of the bargain that Seward got when he bought Alaska for $8,000,000.

But don't forget that there are, proportionately, just as good real estate bargains not far away from where you live. It takes only imagination to identify them.

Big business goes its way silently, steadily, irresistibly. Standard Oil of Indiana increases capital from $375,000,000 to $550,000,000, issuing 3,000,000 more shares of stock to absorb Pan-American Petroleum.

No intelligent American will object to bigger business of any kind, especially bigger oil business.

The great British oil company invades this market buying North and South American oil fields, opening gasoline and oil works with great energy, determination and intelligence all over the United States. This makes you realize that the business struggle today is between nations, not between little organizations.

Oil companies on a sufficiently big scale might develop sufficient intelligence not to squander the nation's oil resources as is now done.

If you want respect be able to command.

Thoughtful Will Rogers writes:
"Papers are all raving about how popular Philip Snowden, the British treasurer, has made himself by demanding that they get more of the German payment money. He told 'em, 'Boys, we not only would like to have it, but we are going to get it.' Then so-called statesmen will tell you that a navy don't pay."

The most important part of civilized man's education is learning to resist germs.

Measles will wipe out a tribe of Alaskan Eskimos in two or three weeks. White men call it a child's disease.

Monkeys, especially the higher apes, yield to consumption and pneumonia quickly in our germ-ridden regions. Sam Jennings, baby gorilla in New York's Bronx Zoo, has pneumonia now.

Civilized men carry germs of tuberculosis around with them all their lives, successfully fighting them off, only occasionally succumbing. They have almost learned to resist whiskey.

Production of airplane engines in this country for the first half of 1929, was 78 per cent greater than in 1928. The old pilot-killing warlike engines are going to the scrap heap as they should.

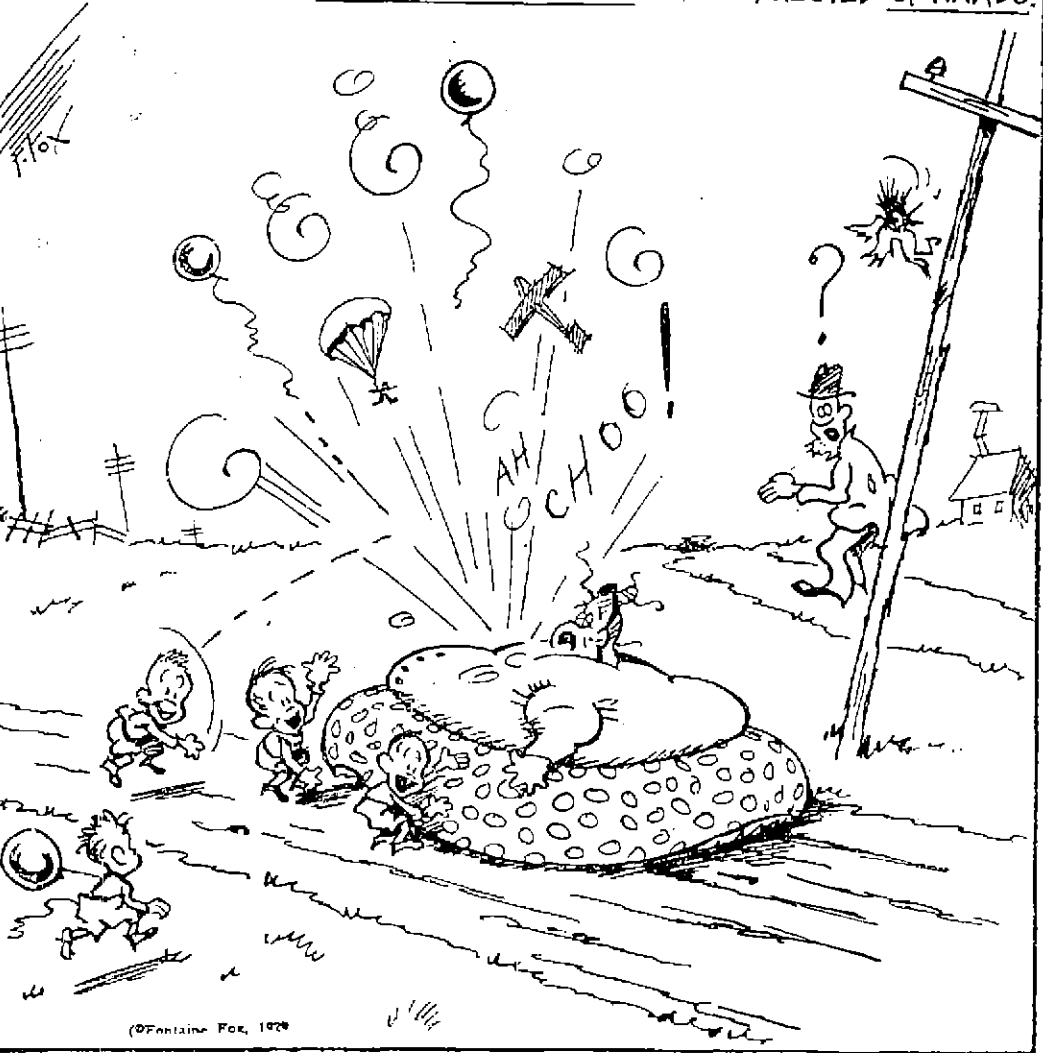

What the country needs is bigger, better engines and much bigger planes carrying more engines.

In spite of the general complaints of the pedestrian, the easiest thing for an automobile to run into is debt.

A Chicago jobber is reported as having bought 100 car loads of gasoline at 7 1/2 cents a gallon. The prevailing price is 7 1/2 to 7 3/4 cents per gallon. If he sells it in this vicinity his profit will be good enough.

Landlady: Look here, young man, you've been here three months and haven't paid any rent yet.

Landlady: I did, but what of it? Student: Well, I never pay any rent at home.

Most theologians mistake theology for religion.

A pious reader condemns our references to betting, on the grounds that betting is an immoral process of obtaining something for nothing. Our experience has been rather to the contrary—that betting is giving something for nothing.

SOUND ADVICE

"Doctor, I'm continually thinking of my girl. Can't you advise me how to get her off my mind?"

"Marry her, my boy, marry her."

"What good will that do?"

"Then you'll have her on your hands."

The best method of climbing higher is to remain on the level.

We noticed where a court has ruled that just because a man's business was suffering was not a good reason for that man getting out of the jailhouse. A man really don't need any business while in the calaboose as he is found in everything he really has to have—not what he thinks he really ought to have.

The performance of that plant Zeppelin airship shows that a gas bag really can perform unheard of things. There are only a few of that kind of gas bags—fact only one. You can't beat the Dutch—sometimes.

HARD LINES TO WRITE

"What are you crying about, my poor man?"

"I want to write me mudder a letter."

"Well, why don't you?"

"I can't write."

"That's tough. I'll write for you. Well, why don't you stop crying? I said I'd write for you, didn't I?"

"I know dat."

"Well, tell me what to say."

"I ain't dat. Me mudder can't read."

In the old days there were no cafeterias, automats or delicatessens but never the less one could get a good kick hearing the housewife pounding the round steak with a mallet along about 11:30 a. m. Eastern time.

There are politicians who will do anything to gain their own political ends, which is usually keeping themselves in a job. They will ruin public school discipline or do anything that they think will make them more powerful. At election time is the time to swipe these candidates. If their candidates win they go to Har-

Well we helped the fair along all we could. We even gave it some money. No greater love can a man have for a fair than to give it money is our opinion.

In the bright lexicon of our youth there was no such word as "phrill."

NO NEED OF NIGHTIES

"The cat's pajamas" as a slang expression isn't so bright—it's my experience. Cats never go to bed at night.

Recent tests showing that women have only half the physical strength of men is only another proof of the power of mind over matter.

"God, let me live each lovely day. So I may know that come what may I've done my best to live the way You want me to."

Good Government Victory Seen In Cleveland Election Result

Retention Of City Management Form Of Administration Regarded By Press As Another Step Toward Suppression Of Political Bosses

Cleveland's decision by a majority of 300 votes to retain the city-manager form of government is hailed by the press of the country as a decisive victory for good government. It was the third time in two years that the attempt had been made in the Ohio city to return to the old form of government, and again the civic organizations won, with notable support from women voters.

"Remarkable" is the term employed by the DAYTON DAILY NEWS in describing the result, as it remarks that "nowhere, not even in boss-ridden Cincinnati, have the political middlemen died so hard." The Daily News finds a lesson in the election: "Fighting off successfully its political parasites, Cleveland sets an example to the other cities of the country. Its fight is, of course, only half a victory. Cleveland made some serious mistakes in selecting its councilmen. No form of government automatically produces good results; a good form only opens the way. The next big job for Cleveland is the election in November of a council worthy of it."

"The campaign has been waged on the usual grounds," says the UTICA OBSERVER-DISPATCH. "Ward heelers and political grafters generally, members of both of the dominant parties, were movers in the effort to secure a favorable vote for return of the old plan. They struck hands, pooled their issues, brought together both organizations, raised funds through contributions from aspiring job seekers, made all manner of promises to followers in the underworld, rallied dive keepers and proprietors, inmates and patrons of speakeasies and disreputable resorts, and worked like twins in the one single thought to get a municipality again in their own hands."

"While politicians desiring to get control of the city made the most of their case, the voters were not to be bamboozled," declares the TOPEKA DAILY CAPITAL, while the BUFFALO EVENING NEWS comments: "That the new order has not accomplished all that was expected of it is attested by the scandals that have developed under it. However, there must be much more to its credit than to its discredit. Otherwise the people would not again have voted to retain it. They will have opportunity in November to correct conditions, for there is to be another election of councilmen. If they defeat the political bosses again on that occasion, the experiment should go on under much more favorable conditions."

"It is probably an excellent thing," in the opinion of the NORFOLK LEDGER-DISPATCH, "that the foes of the city-manager plan continue their assaults upon it. For these very onslaughts force and will continue to give the people who band every energy to the perfection of this modern method of government, a work that they should pursue through all time, for in no other way will complete success be achieved and in no other way will this government be safe from the forces of reaction, which often nod but never really sleep."

"Proof of the pudding proverbially is in the eating," remarks the PHILADELPHIA EVENING BULLETIN. "Cleveland has had fair opportunity to show the people the benefits of determining what the city-manager plan is like, finds it satisfactory and continues to show a majority for it. Presumably the opponents of the plan are skilled in the ways and means of getting out the vote and the maximum result of their efforts is in it—self, a credential for the new system."

"The significant thing was that most of the independent element, while conceding faults in the operation of the plan, were not ready to give it up," according to the PITTSBURGH POST-GAZETTE, while the YOUNGSTOWN VINDICATOR holds that "the result ought to make an end of partisan movements for control of the city, and direct attention of all to the big problems ahead which should be wisely solved." The TREN-ON EVENING TIMES avers that the victory "means that voters who have had a good sample of decency and honesty in the administration of local affairs are not likely to influence which have been the bane of municipal government in America."

"Apparently Cleveland is still weighing the city-manager plan in the balance, and, remembering past years, is inclined to continue the trial rather than return to the mayor-and-council form."

"Nor is it strange that he should say this life is pitiless and mean. A thousand charmers had lined his way."

Which he had never seen. (Copyright, 1929, Edgar A. Guest)

"In the long run, the citizens make their own government," says the BUTTE DAILY POST, adding that "good government depends on good citizens." The NEWARK EVENING NEWS agrees that "it is men that count," and the KANSAS CITY TIMES thinks that "it is clear that Cleveland believes it has an instrument of government that can be turned to effective account in the interests of the people."

Although the CLEVELAND PLAIN DEALER supported the charter in the campaign, it concedes that it has defects, adding: "Nor can anyone be indifferent to signs of public dissatisfaction with some of its provisions." That paper adds that "the next effort in the direction of amendment should come from friends of the plan."

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

Fifty-seventh installment of a diary kept by Lawrence A. Wilson of San Diego, California, upon his visit to Russia in 1928, published exclusively in The New Castle News.

MANCHURIAN SETTLERS
August 27, 1928
We arrived safely in Harbin tonight. I haven't had time to look over the town, but will record some of the scenes along the railroad before we finally arrived.

We encountered a veritable stream of new settlers. The covered wagon, or its equivalent, the Chinese umbrella, has reached northern Manchuria. They are pushing into the unoccupied land to the north, most on foot, carrying their few belongings on their backs, and sheltering their families with umbrellas, which are their only form of shelter. Over two million destitute home-seekers have come straggling up from the famine-stricken province of Shantung. They are dressed in coarse blue denim. They live on kaoliang, a sort of coarse millet, which is the substitute for the rice of the more prosperous cooies of the South. They are the stuff of which pioneers are made. As they walk along, singing a plaintive song, which reminds me of the Volga Boatman's song. They have come with the determination to stay. And eventually I believe, they will be able to coax a moderate living from the reluctant soil of these sun-baked plains. If they ever meditate on their hard lot, they do not show a trace of worry or resentment in their ever smiling faces.

Festering with summer heat, frigid in winter, these treeless plains with all of the characteristic frontier conditions, can only be conquered by such a cheery and indomitable spirit. Harbin is the center of the wild East. It is a typical boom town. If any of our California real estate men are dissatisfied with the steady growth, I commend them to Harbin. Here is a city which in 30 years had grown from a nondescript collection of mud huts to a city of more than 300,000. And it is still booming! It is the throbbing center of all the new life of the plains of Manchuria. Several railways are headed in this direction. I am going to spend several days here, getting bathed and rested, clothed and in my right mind. It will take several days!

NARROW VISION

He never painted vine or tree. He never cared for singing birds. His only language seemed to be: Made up of human words.

The stars above him moved him not. Heed above him walked the streets at night. Contented with what shame he got From the electric light.

Life thins its mysteries about. But only one of them he knew. All that he cared to ferret out Were things that people do.

AMERICAN PUBLIC LIBRARY

A VERY fine tribute has been paid to the American public library by Dr. Guido Ferrando, Professor of English Literature at the University of Florence, Italy, when he said that it functions for the people while the European library exists to preserve books, and in its reference to our library system as one most striking accomplishment of modern democracy.

With due modesty we say that the tribute is well deserved, for, to use the exact words of Dr. Ferrando, "American libraries are wonderful not merely in the books which they contain, but especially in the ideal from which they emanate, the ideal of books as a useful means of disseminating knowledge, capable of becoming socializing and spiritualizing forces." They are wonderful in their functioning, with their small branches that reach into remote neighborhoods and distant regions, their children's rooms, their business and industrial sections. The American librarian looks on his books as something to be administered for the people, whereas the Latin librarian has an adoration for the books themselves."

Dr. Ferrando has said that it is with difficulty that books can be withdrawn from European libraries, a discouraging amount of red tape is often involved, large deposits are required and the formalities may require hours. An interesting comparison made by Dr. Ferrando is that the New York Public Library has 500 employees but the "great National Library of Florence has fifteen or twenty."

How much we have to be thankful for in our own libraries.

THE BECKONING HAND OF OPPORTUNITY

When Henry Ford unburies his mind on any subject outside of the automobile business it is usually the signal for a general controversy. But when he says, as he does in his latest interview with Mr. Forbes, that this is the age of opportunity for young men he makes a statement with which most thoughtful persons will agree.

In every age and in most communities there are those who mournfully assert that the individual no longer has the chance to accomplish worthwhile things. Some persons are fearful that the amazing growth of big business in this country has shut the door of opportunity to aspiring young men, but they forget that the great corporations are always on the look-out for brains and energy and that the rewards now are greater than they have been at any time in the past.

Mr. Ford is highly optimistic of both the present and the future. "If you will look around you," he says, "you will see that the world's opportunities are only beginning to break. Every generation leaves more opportunities than it found. Compared with today the opportunities fifty years ago were startlingly few. Opportunity beckons to the earnest-minded youth on every side." He points out some of the possibilities of present-day life, the airplane, electricity, motor transportation, the radio, distributing, merchandising—everything that enters into modern life. The need for research is ever-present. He goes farther and insists that the more alive you are, the more eagerly you are interested in what you are doing, the less sleep you need.

We occasionally hear it said that this is a young man's world. Henry Ford does not agree with this dictum. He fully understands the value of youthful enthusiasm, but he is convinced that this is everybody's world. The thing is to find your place in it. "Older men," he comments, "should never quit. The world needs their experience." It is only another way of repeating the old proverb of young men for action and old men for counsel.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

ICELAND'S THOUSAND YEARS

Next year the little island of Iceland, located at the juncture of the Gulf Stream and the Polar Current, will celebrate a great event in which America has an interest that fully justifies our participation to the anticipated extent of sending five delegates to present a statue of Leif Ericson.

The Icelandic Parliament will celebrate its thousandth birthday next year. This legislative body was established in 930 by the hardy Vikings, thus giving to the world the first republic of north Europe and fully warranting the coming celebration as a festival of democracy.

America's interest lies in the facts that the first recorded American history is found in the sagas of Iceland, and the first white child born on the American continent was Icelandic. These and our common devotion to democracy are ties that closely bind our own country to this sturdy little land of the north.

Her population is but little over 100,000; her fleet, in contrast to those of the sea-faring Vikings of old, consists of just two police patrol boats, but she is no longer known as the "Hermit of the North Atlantic," for she is linked to the rest of the world by radio, cable and regular steamship sailings. She may be a bit heavy under the weight of a thousand years, but her spirit is still young. Our best wishes go to you on your millennial birthday.

Scout Welcome Is Planned For Saturday Night

Returning Delegation Expected To Arrive In New Castle Early That Evening

CELEBRATION PLANS BEING COMPLETED

Final arrangements are being made today by the Boy Scout activities committee of the American Legion for the big welcome home which will be accorded the boys on their arrival in New Castle.

According to word received by the committee this morning, the boat which has been delayed about 24 hours, will arrive this evening at 6 o'clock, after which the boys will be taken on a sight seeing tour before they return to New Castle. They are expected to arrive here early Saturday evening, according to present arrangements.

The committee plans to meet them at the station and escort them over the principal streets of the city to the Legion Home, where brief exercises will be carried out. Mayor William H. Gillespie will welcome the boys in behalf of the city and citizens.

Efforts are being made today to secure the services of the Consistory Legion of Honor bugle and drum corps to head the procession. Members of the Legion, Boy Scouts and citizens of the community will form the procession, which will pass a reviewing stand on the Diamond and then proceed to the Legion Home on North Jefferson street, where a speaking stand will be erected.

Members of the American Legion Post and citizens of the city are asked to co-operate in making the return of the boys an auspicious occasion.

The following letter has been addressed to J. Lee Calahan, county scout executive, who is in charge of the Boy Scout delegation:

"In view of the fact that New Castle has been so ably and honorably represented at the International Jamboree of Boy Scouts, the city of New Castle is planning a suitable welcome for the scouts and party on their return."

"The welcome as planned will consist of meeting the party at the local railroad station and then led by a band, there will be a parade composed of Boy Scouts, members of the American Legion, the mayor, city council, and various other city officials, to a platform on Jefferson street, opposite the American Legion Home, which is located at the corner of Falls and Jefferson streets. Here a suitable speech of welcome and commendation will be made by the mayor and one other speaker. The speeches will be short."

"The American Legion is sponsoring this welcome and it appears that with the very able co-operation of the city, it will be a success."

"We must know at the very earliest moment possible, exactly when you will arrive in New Castle."

unaware that they were being looked at by countless hundreds of New Castleites, who either were up or awakened by the noise of the motors grew louder. As the cigar-shaped object neared the city, the noise of the motors was almost deafening. The Graf was not flying high. It is estimated that it was not over 300 feet from the earth.

The cabins, white and clearly outlined against the big black bag, were distinctly seen. The cabins were very big. The Graf is a big silver-colored bag, but to the many upturned faces it looked gray.

The Graf followed a course over the west side of town, went over the north hill and headed off toward Grove City.

Slowly the big dirigible slipped out of sight. It was as if New Castle was a poet, and the Graf a "ship that passes in the night." Only to the fortunate souls that glimpsed the famous Graf. It was a big moment. It is one thing to read about a big event, and another thing to actually see it. The bigness of the Graf was clearly imprinted on the minds of the on-lookers.

The cabin lights became dimmer and dimmer. The big ship was into the haze. Many expressed the regret that the Graf had to pass in the night and not in the daylight.

The pilot was evidently trying to locate the all main beacon lights in this vicinity. He was slightly off his course as he sailed over New Castle. The pilot would evidently pick up the beacon lights that are located at Mercer and Wesley, near Franklin.

The world voyagers reached Cleveland late last night. After giving the patrons of the national air races a big thrill, it started for Lakehurst. Eckenberger changed his course after leaving Cleveland. It was originally intended to steer the big liner over New York state toward the Hudson river and then down to Lakehurst.

The dirigible landed at Lakehurst at 8:07 a. m. eastern daylight time. It cruised in the air some six hours after leaving New Castle. It was safely placed in the big hangar at 8:40 a. m. The passengers, tired but happy, disembarked.

The epic flight of the Graf will be remembered by many New Castle people. The ship traveled around the world, a distance of some 20,000 miles, and passed directly over New Castle on its way homeward.

AIRPLANES OR DIRIGIBLES BEST?

a series of loops and spins in the navy fighting plane.

"Airplanes and airships," said the youthful Colonel whose epoch-making conquest of the Atlantic will never be forgotten, "are both of inestimable value as a means of transportation. There is much to be said in behalf of each of them. At the present time, however, I should say that the airship, such as the Graf Zeppelin for instance, is the most practical machine for over-sea travel and the airplane the best for overland travel. I look for the airplane to be developed to such an extent in the future that it will become the best medium for flying everywhere and under all conditions."

Linbergh refused to say whether adventurous pilots should be discouraged from attempting additional ocean hops in airplanes.

Capt. Rickenbacker's Opinion.

Captain Eddie Rickenbacker, surprising as it may seem, thinks the dirigible is easily the most practical vehicle yet invented for traveling over long distances. He believes the feat of the Graf Zeppelin in circling the world is no proof of this.

"The dirigible is by far the greatest mode of transportation in the world, both in the matter of safety and in the matter of commercial and practicality for long distance flying, particularly over oceans," said Capt. Rickenbacker. "The Graf Zeppelin's greatest feat, in my opinion, one of the greatest feats yet accomplished by a mankind that has learned to fly."

There is no limit to what we can expect from airships of the Graf Zeppelin type. I confidently expect to some day see airships 500 times as large as the Graf which will not only be able to fly around the world without a stop and in perfect safety, but will be able to remain in the air for all of five years if necessary without ever coming down to earth."

What Fokker Says.

Mr. Fokker is a champion of the cause of the airplane.

Here is what he says:

"The lighter-than-air ship has reached the ultimate in its development; the airplane is only in its infancy. While the future size of transport planes is apparently unlimited, 100 passenger giants of the air that will be able to fly across oceans with comparative ease and in all kinds of weather are not yet economical. The thing that is holding back aviation today is the scarcity of good pilots."

Captains Williams and Yancey are not inclined to lean to any appreciable extent to either side of the argument. A written statement signed by both of them and issued to International News Service indicates that if they have any partiality in the matter it is on the side of the airplane.

This statement is as follows:

"The primary point of air transportation is speed made as safe as you can make it. Heavier-than-air craft is just as safe as any lighter-than-air craft. We would not like to state definitely which is the best for long distance travel."

"After our long study of trans-Atlantic flying we are satisfied that after there have been a dozen or more trips made by trained observers sufficient meteorological data will be at hand to map out a comparatively safe trans-Atlantic route that might be used by either type of craft."

"The pay load factor is important in air transportation."

"Considering initial expense, operating cost, etc., which includes several hundred men, the lighter-than-air craft has a prohibitive cost."

Heavier-than-air craft can be operated very cheaply and is much faster."

HOG CALLING CONTEST UNIQUE FEATURE

Book answered next and this gentleman did his calling in a falsetto voice. On a male soprano would be better perhaps. One thought instinctively of Tetrazzini and Galli-Curi at their best, with now and then a suggestion of a brake band that need it.

Comes now J. N. Fullerton of Edinburg, U. S. A. Fullerton has a voice reminiscent of a factory whistle at quitting time, starting down in the cellar and by a series of mad crescendo dashes up to an effect like a fire whistle. Commanding, you know, but musical, withal, and what volume. A couple of volumes would be nearer to it.

William M. C. Drake, grizzled veteran that he is, couldn't shift his gears on the hill and ended by burning out a bearing. Bill meant all right and his intentions were perfectly honorable, but he couldn't get away from the idea that he was singing basso in the Presbyterian choir.

Francis McCracken had more of the staccato style, sharp and snappy, like a river hammer on a big boiler job. Snapped out his calls like a top sergeant on the morning after pay day, or a crap shooter pleading for a natural. There was a caressing quality there, will all its staccato tone, and Mac surely must have his hogs trained.

All the time the hog calling was going on, Dr. S. B. McDougall, of Grove City was listening with the practiced ear of a veterinarian. The doctor is a good judge of horse flesh and hog callers and after mature deliberation he decided that if he were a hog he would much sooner listen to J. N. Fullerton's calling.

There was art in that contest, and music and science, all of them wrapped into one package and thrown in Rickenbacker. "The Graf Zeppelin's greatest feat, in my opinion, one of the greatest feats yet accomplished by a mankind that has learned to fly."

There is no limit to what we can expect from airships of the Graf Zeppelin type. I confidently expect to some day see airships 500 times as large as the Graf which will not only be able to fly around the world without a stop and in perfect safety, but will be able to remain in the air for all of five years if necessary without ever coming down to earth."

Secretary Davis Would Restrict All Immigrants

Only Skilled Specialists In Industrial And Art Lines Would Be Admitted

PATRIOTIC SONS HEAR ADDRESS

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Aug. 29.—A plea for immigration restrictions that would permit only specialists in all lines of industry and the arts to enter the United States, regardless of their country of origin, was voiced by Secretary of Labor James J. Davis, in addressing the convention of the patriotic order Sons of America.

In advocating the change in immigration regulations while speaking at the late afternoon session of the convention, Davis outlined the changes that have occurred in American industry in the last few years and stated that the crying need of the country at present was the aid of specialists in all lines. He pointed out that many foreign country at present have an over supply of specialists while the states has an oversupply of un-specialized labor.

Have Been Helpful
"Restrictive immigration laws have been helpful to our country while adjusting itself to the machine age," Davis declared. "Production by our manufacturing industries has increased 15 per cent with 3,500,000 fewer men employed than 10 years ago.
We now need and must have the specialist, the man who can build up our industries and provide employment for workers."

He pointed out that a number of American industries had recently imported specialists to put the industries on their feet, citing the example of a textile mill in Massachusetts and another company in Ohio. Davis also suggested that the selection of immigrants be placed directly in the hands of the Secretary of Labor so that those being admitted to this country would be known to be of a certain standard.

At the final session of the convention today the new officers, including David J. Davis, of Lansford, who won the contested election for the post of state guard, will be installed.

Coon Hunt Will Occur September 7

A coon hunt will be held at the fair grounds September 7. It is an interesting sport and we have plenty of coon hunters in Lawrence county who will turn out for this hunt.
The coon is fed for several miles and then it is tied up a tree. The dogs are released several miles from the tree and it is one merry race after the dogs get the scent. The first dog to bark up the tree is the winner, of course. All in all, it is a fine sport.

Airplane Takes Milk Shipment To Pittsburgh

One Hour And Ten Minutes Af-

Guests Have Fresh Milk

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Aug. 29.—Dropping milk to the front porch steps by parachute may never come, but delivery from farm to city by airplane, which received its first try here late yesterday, may soon be a reality.

One hour and ten minutes after
erset farm on the Liberty Dairy Products yesterday, it was served to guests at a hotel here. The cost of the delivery alone was about 73 cents a pint but it cost the hotel guests only 10 cents.

Officials of the Products company were well pleased with their experiment, and if other flights planned prove successful, they will consider regular service. After reaching the airport, the milk was delivered by truck to the hotel.

Flies will disappear from a room if 20 drops of carbolic acid are evaporated from a hot shovel every day.

The butterflies zig-zag path through the air makes them more difficult to catch by birds while on the wing.

You, too, may have a clear skin

Proud? Justly so!

Every person should have a clear skin. If you have skin blemishes why not get rid of them PERMANENTLY?

THOUSANDS of people have weak, impure blood—to this may be attributed pimples, boils, eczema, "run-down" systems, rheumatism and even more serious ailments.

Without plenty of rich, red blood, there could be no strong, sturdy, powerful men, or beautiful, healthy women.

When you get the number of your red-blood-cells back to normal, that sluggish, let-down feeling, loss of appetite, those pains usually called rheumatism, boils, pimples, and skin troubles disappear. You get hungry again and sleep soundly; firm flesh takes the place of that which was once flabby. You feel strong. Your nerves become steady. You are resistant to disease.

Throughout more than a hundred years S.S.S. has been a blessing to millions of people who have taken advantage of its wonderful medicinal properties. It is Nature's own blood tonic for improving the appetite, clearing the body of so-called skin troubles, and building strength and resistance to disease.

S.S.S. increases the count of red-cells in the blood. Weak, impure blood is injurious to the system, lowering resistance to disease. Rich, red blood builds and sustains the body. S.S.S. helps Nature build rich, red blood. Good blood improves the processes by which the body is nourished, promotes constructive metabolism (healthy body building) and works against infection and disease. Take S.S.S. daily at mealtimes. To get full benefit you must take it regularly and over a sufficient period of time. At all Drug Stores. Ask for the larger size. It is more economical.

The GREAT BLOOD TONIC SINCE 1826

In 1844, it is related, such hailstones fell at Cotte, France, that buildings were wrecked and vessels off shore sank.

There is a fish in African waters, we read, which crawls over the ground for miles for no apparent purpose.

Sounds more like a golfer. — The Ottawa Journal.

Women Fliers To Pass Over City In Cross-Country Race Labor Day

Announcement was made today that arrangements have been completed for the air race between Cleveland and the Pittsburgh-Butler airport, on the afternoon of Labor Day.

The race is being sponsored by the Pittsburgh Aviation Industries Corporation, and will bring many of the women who were contestants in the cross-country derby which ended at Cleveland this week, in a swift dash over the city.

The time for the start of the race and complete details are now being arranged and will be announced shortly.

In addition to the race itself, fliers will hold an air meet at the field which will include stunting and daring demonstrations of airmanship. Among those who have indicated they will enter the race are Mrs. Louise McPhetridge Thaden, of Pittsburgh, winner of the women's derby; Gladys O'Donnell, Amelia Earhart, Lady Mary Heath, Mrs. Keith Miller, of New Zealand, Mrs. Blanche Noyes, Phoebe Omlie, of Memphis; and Ruth Nichols, of Rye, N. Ohio Raids Please Mercer Officials

Many Arrests Made Of Fugitives Who Have Fled From Mercer County Court

MERCER, Pa., Aug. 29.—District Attorney Leo McKay and the detectives working out of his office are pleased with the recent raids of the federal authorities in Ohio, clearing up on a number of places alleged to have been operated by former county speakers and proprietors who had jumped bail or were wanted here on process.

Due to the co-operation of the county police and detectives, this activity is being kept at the lowest ebb since 1922, when an evidently county-wide thirst made business very good. State police authorities are urging all county prosecutors to awaken to the fact that a disregard of the liquor law is but the preface to a harvest of crime. Fayette county is a striking example of what may be expected where these racketeers are allowed to run at large.

A vigorous prosecution of them is all that is needed to keep down the amount of crime, the problem is solved here.

TO PAY OFF DEBT
The funding bond issue of 1916, amounting to $230,000, a part of the bonded debt of Mercer county, will be paid off in two years, reports County Treasurer Ralph McQuiston. The sinking fund of the county pro-

Before Baby Comes

Comfort and ease for the expectant mother

UNLESS the muscles, tissues and nerves "give" easily as the abdomen enlarges, much pain and untold suffering may result. As the abdomen increases in size strains increase in intensity, exhausting the expectant mother with perhaps all effects upon the unborn child. More important still, it is to have the tissues and muscles as "elastic" as possible when the great moment of childbirth arrives.

Countless thousands of expectant mothers for over 60 years have used "Mother's Friend"—that time-tested, scientifically prepared skin lubricant and pain-reliever, which originated in the prescription of an eminent obstetrician—and have been relieved of the strain and the pain, the discomfort and the nervousness that come from the distention and the stretching of the skin and the tissues, which attend this delicate condition.

You give yourself the comfort "Mother's Friend" gives during the waiting months. It is soothing, relaxing, comforting. It is not a drug to be taken. It is used externally only—gently rubbed into the skin. Clean and pleasant to the touch. Brings relief promptly. Very valuable in keeping the breasts in good condition. Also pure in line shape for the approaching ordeal. "Mother's Friend" is on sale at all drug stores, $1.25 per bottle.

A massage with it tonight will relieve your strained condition. A booklet on "Things to Know Before Baby Comes" will be mailed in plain envelope, free on request. Address: Bradfield Regulator Co., Dept. D, Atlanta, Ga.

LEARN OF DEATH

Harry Moore, aged 70 years, died at Canton, O., Tuesday morning, according to word received by relatives in Mercer county.

The deceased was the son of the late Sheriff Moore of Mercer county, who served in this capacity in the sixties. He is survived by two brothers, Charles of Greenville and Sam of Sharon. Relatives left Tuesday for Ohio to bring the body here for burial.

The last of the Solid Comfort Fishing Club members have returned from the camping grounds on the French river in Canada.

The fishing this season is reported not to have been so good. The weather was very cold during the entire period of camp.

TO WRITE IN NAMES

Mercer Republicans will have to write in the names of two for councilman on their ticket to get the requisite number of three nominated.

Thomas D. Beatty and A. L. R. McCarty, nominated at the caucus recently held, withdrew, refusing the candidacy. Miss Mary Noll withdrew as the choice of the town Democrats for school director. On the G. O. P. card is left but one councilman, Tom Cummings.

WANT ESTATE SETTLED

Partition proceedings in equity were filed here today by Little Kimes of Grove City vs. W. J. McCurdy, Joseph Smith, Lois Stengle, Mabel McCurdy, Mildred McCurdy, all heirs at law of the late Dan McCurdy of Millbrook, who died intestate June 8th of 1924.

Since that time, the bill states, several of the heirs at law of that date have died. He left a widow and four children. Heirs of these beneficiaries under the law, including the plaintiff, are alive.

The plaintiff asks a partition of the farm of the decedent McCurdy in Worth township, this county.

SUES FOR WAGES

Suit was filed here today by Marguerite James, a Sharon seamstress, against William Ostermaier of that city to collect $192.67 with interest from May 28, 1927.

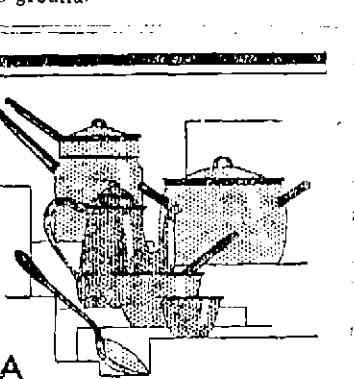

The bill, filed by Lininger and Lininger, attorneys for the woman, reports the employment of the plaintiff in her capacity as stated by the defendant with an agreement of wage.

At completion of the work the defendant was debtor $361.67, the bill states. Credit of $169 is reported, leaving the balance sued for.

SIDELIGHTS ON FAIR

A cross section of the human family, that's all a fair is, and that's what the New Castle Fair was Wednesday. Young and old, large and small, jostling and pushing their good natural way up and down the midway and through the exhibition booths, and never a complaint.

This year's midway seems to be larger than ever before and the boys are rolling up their cash register scores.

Blanket men, Bingo players, gentlemen who guess your weight, salesmen who will sell you spark plugs that end your motor troubles, peanut men, taffy men, all of them insisting they had the best layout on the grounds, and all of them getting their share of the business.

Lay your money on this man T. J. McChillough as a crack shot with baseballs. Tom knocked down a lot of the dolls Wednesday and while he may not be as young as he once was, he still has a keen eye.

It was a field day for candidates. If all the cards handed out on Wednesday were laid end to end you would get eye strain reading them.

The kid who guesses your weight within three pounds was doing a land office business. One sweet young thing who has been insisting that she was just a little over 100, tipped the scale at 118, just what the man said she would. What an eye that chap has for women.

Somewhere the cattle barn seems to hold an attraction for any crowd. And in the cattle barns the Black Angus have an appeal all their own. Great, brawny animals, beef cattle, promising some juicy filet mignon next fall.

J. W. Hartwell has been as busy as a tax collector all week, but once the starter's going rings in the judges' stand of the rack track, Hartwell is all washed up. He would sooner see a harness race than eat, and if he misses any of the heats it won't be his fault.

You really shouldn't miss the fair. It is a golden opportunity for the city man to meet the country man and appreciate what he has been doing all summer. There is just as much art in some of those agricultural exhibits as there is in a fine piece of metal work, or a painting, or a fine piece of any kind of work. Lawrence county farmers must be living right, for only the righteous could raise corn and apples and "garden stuff" such as is seen at the fair.

The starter and judge of the races, Chester Sands, is a real horseman, and a cool official. He gets his races started in a bunch, and that is one reason why the races are so interesting. Very little scoring, and no confusion, even with a big field.

The pony race was a high spot of the day. One of the country insisted that he was going the wrong way, and by the time his driver had changed his mind, the race was half over. The winners came tearing down in front of the grandstand like Pony Mcatee and Sande would finish.

As for the hog calling contest, by

If your full name is Montmorency, or Cadwallader, adopt something like Mike for a name during the fair.

Did you see that display of honey, every bit of it harvested by honey bees of Lawrence county in Lawrence county. It was just about the sweetest thing that ever happened in Lawrence county. There's one thing sure the exhibit shows what enterprising Lawrence countians can do along that line.

Now when it comes to high powered salesmanship, most people would give the first prize to some stock salesman or the guy that sells automobiles but really the prize at the fair grounds goes to that long-winded, never stopping guy who sells knives of all kinds to make all kinds of fancy things out of cabbage, potatoes and vegetables of all kinds.

Jutie, that Holstein heifer and her proud owner Evangelist Schmidt were both seen and heard all day yesterday and will continue to be seen and heard during the balance of the fair.

Patton Loses Right To Enter Fall Primary

Court Decision Says He Is Not Eligible In Ellwood Election

In a decision handed down today by Judge James A. Chambers, Charles V. Patton of Ellwood City is denied the right to run for the Republican nomination for justice of the peace. His petition asking that the county commissioners be forced to place his name on the ballot is refused, and the costs placed upon him.

The case was a rather unusual one. Patton lives on Division street in Ellwood city, which is the dividing line of Lawrence and Beaver counties. For boro and school purposes residents of Beaver county residing in this portion of Ellwood City, vote in Ellwood City. For county and state offices, they vote in Beaver county. Patton's home is in Beaver county.

In his opinion Judge Chambers stated that while a justice of the peace is elected by the citizens in the boro or district affected, it is a state office.

Patton's contention was that inasmuch as he voted for boro offices, he was entitled to run for the office of justice of the peace. When he presented his petition to the county commissioners they refused to certify it and the suit resulted.

Many Will Attend 332nd Reunion

Annual Gathering Of Veterans To Occur At Akron, Ohio,
Over Week End

AKRON, O., Aug. 29.—The 8th annual reunion of the 332nd regiment in Akron next Saturday and Sunday, August 31 and September 1 brings to the memories of many the achievements of this regiment of Ohians in the world war.

Part of the 83rd division, this regiment, composed mainly of Ohio men sailed for France in June, 1918 and were sent to Italy to serve on the Austro-Italian front where it was the only American regiment engaged in the great battles that preceded the collapse of the Austrian army and the subsequent crash of the government which led soon after to an armistice on all fronts.

Under command of Colonel William Wallace, the regiment took part in the victorious battle of Vittorio Veneto which brought the war on the Austro-Italian front to a close on November 4, 1918 just seven days before hostilities ceased in France.

After the armistice two battalions of the 332nd represented the U. S. in the occupation of Ca'laro and Fiume the two important Austrian posts.

In February, 1919 the regiment was re-assembled at Genoa and sailed for the United States in March.

Because of the regiment's service on the Italian front the winged Lion of St. Mark was adopted as shoulder insignia and thousands of uniforms bearing this symbol will be seen in Akron during the reunion.

The judgment of the Zeppelin's engineers . . . in construction, in motors and equipment, in the choice of motor oil—now carries conviction to every corner of the world.

Uncounted millions of motor-minded people have heard those five Maybach motors humming perfectly under VEEDOL'S film of protection . . . singing their endless song of flawless lubrication . . . and VEEDOL, the motor oil used in all the amazing flights of this great air liner, has become almost as famous as the name of the Zeppelin itself!

And finally, on this greatest voyage in the history of aviation . . . around the world. No more convincing tests of motor oil quality have ever been made.

Road test or air test . . . VEEDOL turns each into a conclusive victory! Experts Delve Into State's Surface For More Geologic Data

HARRISBURG, Aug. 29.—Like every other forward-looking state or country, Pennsylvania is conducting a detailed survey of its surface and its resources. The work is being done by the Bureau of Topographic and Geologic Survey of the Pennsylvania Department of Internal Affairs in co-operation with the United States Geological Survey and others. Secretary of Internal Affairs James P. Woodward in discussing the work today pointed out that preliminary topographic mapping is in progress on the Starucca, Susquehanna, Lehigh, Ralston, Kautz and Coalbrook quadrangles and mapping is nearing completion on the Union City, Perfield and Clearfield quadrangles. Finishing touches are being put on the new geologic map of Pennsylvania.

The limestone of Pennsylvania are being studied by Prof. B. L. Miller of Lehigh University assisted by Lloyd W. Fisher looking to a new and much enlarged report on that resource.

Clays of the state have been under study for several years by Prof. Henry Leighton, University of Pittsburgh. This year, assisted by J. J. Burke, special attention is being given to the flint clays so much in demand for making fire brick. Laboratory tests of the clays of Pennsylvania are being made by Prof. J. B. Shaw of State College.

Oil Survey.
The general study of the oil fields of the state under J. D. Sisler will be completed this year.

Detailed work in the Bradford oil field has been in progress for several years under Charles R. Fetteke. Prof. Fetteke assisted by W. A. Copeland and W. H. Seifert hopes to complete the field work this season.

Other projects under way at present include:

A study of the building stones of the state by Assistant State Geologist R. W. Stone.

Sand and gravel deposits of the Reading and Altoona districts are being studied by Professor Freeman Ward of Lafayette college assisted by Forrest Moyer.

The underground waters of northwestern Pennsylvania are being investigated in co-operation with the United States Geological Survey by Ralph M. Leggett of the latter survey.

The stratigraphy of the Silurian rocks is being studied by Dr. Bradford Willard a graduate of Lehigh University.

Detail geologic mapping and stratigraphic studies are in progress in Cumberland, York and other counties by George W. Stose of the United States Geological Survey and Dr. A. I. Jonas of the State Survey.

Detailed geologic mappings of the Freeport quadrangle has been completed and similar mappings of the Brookville quadrangle begun by H. Herbert Hughes of the State Survey.

A co-operative study of the river gravel of southeastern Pennsylvania is in progress under M. E. Campbell of the United States Geological Survey.

Co-operative studies of the glacial deposits of western Pennsylvania were continued this spring by Frank Leverett of the United States Geological Survey.

A new report covering the slate deposits of the state by Prof. Chas. H. Behre, Jr., formerly of Lehigh University is nearing completion.

The stratigraphy of the oil sands of northwestern Pennsylvania is being studied by Dr. George H. Chadwick.

State Geologist George H. Ashley is spending some time in the field on general geologic problems inspection of work and collecting material for his report on the "Rocks of Pennsylvania."

In addition to these official surveys the Geologic Survey is co-operating with a number of geologic students some of who are gathering data of much value.

Training School Is "Hard Nut" For Patrol 'Rookies'

Only One-Third Of Last Class Qualifies For Road Duty

HARRISBURG, Aug. 29.—Ten weeks ago a class of approximately 40 recruits began a training course at the state highway patrol school in Harrisburg. Fifteen of that number have completed the course and are ready for assignment. The others have faded out of the picture.

"Coming to the training school a great many young men see only the picture of a jaunty attired patrolman, astride a shining motorcycle, riding in the glorious sunshine—the observed of all observers." They do not see the dark side of the picture—the clouds, the rain, the snow and darkness, the long hours and the hard work. They do not know that they must study hard and work hard before they can become patrolmen. Those of the recruits who were simply on the trail of a good time quit in disgust, and we are glad to see them go. Others will not work, and we send them on their way. The men who complete their course are qualified patrolmen. We do not clothe a raw recruit in a new uniform, mount him on a motorcycle, and call him a patrolman.

That explanation was made by Supt. Wilson C. Price of the highway patrol, who served in the United States Regulars before his long period of service began with the state police, and who has been in charge of the highway force since it was created.

The life of a patrol recruit is purely and simply hard work. He is out of bed at 5:30 a. m. and for an hour takes physical exercise under a capable director. A compulsory shower bath follows, then breakfast, at which he must present himself properly accoutred. For an hour or so the recruits police the barracks, scrubbing floors, washing down walls, cleaning windows, sweeping and dusting. In classes which begin at 9 and 1 and continue until 11:45 and 4:30 they study criminal law, criminal procedure, first aid, the motor code, tractor law, automobile title law, and the care and operation of motor vehicles. They have supper at 5. Study period starts at 6 and continues until 9. All students must be in bed at 10. If the individual's record for the week is good he is permitted to leave the barracks from 6 to 12 Saturday night, and the requirement that Cinderella be home at 12 was no more strict than orders issued to recruits covering their return.

The members of the class "take turns" as "room orderlies," caring for officers' quarters and hallways. They have their turn as "kitchen police," assisting the cook in any way he directs, waiting on table and, afterward, washing dishes.

Examinations are held at two week intervals in the subjects named, and recruits making less than 75 per cent are dropped immediately.

Arrangements are now being completed for the opening of headquarters at Williamsport for the new Troop B, establishment of the troop at that point depending, however, upon execution of a lease, expected within a few days.

National Farm Outlook

By ARTHUR H. JENKINS
Editor The Farm Journal, for Central Press

The great farming problem is not what you think it is.

If you are old enough, and your memory good enough, you cannot have forgotten that there was a farm problem before the Civil War. You will recall that there was a great deal of complaint during the seventies and eighties when the free homestead lands of the West were being taken up.

The nineties were noisy with farm protests, of which populism and free silver agitation were samples. There has been no time since the twentieth century began, with the exception of a couple of years around 1913, and a couple more around 1919, when farmers were not in more or less open rebellion and demanding help.

I repeat, the real farm problem has nothing to do with any of these things. It is something much deeper, much more threatening and deadly. It is, briefly, the loss of the top layers of our best soils, through washing away by rain.

You will be disappointed in this, I know. You expected something much more interesting and dramatic. I am sorry. But I stand by my statement, and it is backed by the opinions of a long list of experts.

The danger that threatens farming, and indirectly the lives and prosperity of the whole nation, is the washing off of the top soil, or what is called "sheet erosion."

Do not get this mixed with the consumer, or rather the more conspicuous erosion, which is the cutting of gullies across fields and down hillsides in heavy rains.

This is bad enough, to be sure. In some parts of the country, where the soil is light, the fields billow, the rainfall heavy, and pasture grasses do not thrive, the breaking down of the farms by enormous gullies is very common, and thousands of farms have gone to ruin thereby.

Sheet erosion is worse, partly because it occurs whenever rain falls on cultivated fields, and partly because the damage is not immediately noticeable.

Again, it is not the loss of the fertility in the soil—the chemicals that feed the crops. Chemicals that are lost can be replaced, though at heavy cost. But erosion is the actual loss of the earth, the body of the soil itself, and once gone, it cannot be replaced.

The brighter side of the picture is the fact that in many older sections of the country the remedy has been found and applied. And it can be applied almost everywhere.

It consists in keeping the fields covered as much of the time as possible with some grass crop; and where the soil must be bare, during a rainy season, in terracing the field so as to slow down the run-off of rain, if not prevent it entirely.

A country covered with grass would never have floods. Its streams flow clear, showing that no soil is being washed off and lost. The great prairies and rolling plains of the corn belt were like that once.

Compare this with the muddy streams and the yellow flood waters of today, where the best of the top soil, the very life blood of farming, is being swept pitilessly away to the sea.

Building Construction In State On Increase

HARRISBURG, Aug. 29.—According to reports submitted to the Department of Labor and Industry from building inspection offices in 39 Pennsylvania cities and boroughs, the volume of building construction for July, 1929, was 33.8 per cent higher than the total for July, 1928. The cost of construction under the permits issued in these 39 cities and boroughs during July, 1929, was $28,257,499 as compared to $20,359,618 for July, 1928, an increase this year of $7,898,881.

Nineteen of the 39 cities and boroughs reporting for July showed increased construction work over July last year. These cities and boroughs were Allentown, Bethlehem, Carlisle, Easton, Harrisburg, Jeannette, McKeesport, McKees Rocks, Monessen, Monongahela, New Castle, Norristown, Philadelphia, Sunbury, Uniontown, Washington, Wilkensburg, Williamsport and York. The largest increases were reported by Philadelphia and Harrisburg where gain of $4,521,795, or 32.8 per cent, and $2,713,560, or 16.8 per cent, respectively, were recorded. The extraordinary gain for Harrisburg was due to the issuance of a permit for the new Education building of the Capitol group. Four other cities reporting increases in construction work of more than $100,000 each were Allentown, Easton, Norristown and Uniontown.

Declines in construction work for July, 1929, were reported by 20 cities and boroughs. Five of the 20 reported declines of more than $100,000 each as follows: Bradford, $319,345, or 82.5 per cent; Hazleton, $197,041, or 77.1 per cent; Lancaster, $276,130, or 62.7 per cent; Pittsburgh, $380,664, or 15.4 per cent; and Scranton, $336,959, or 57.6 per cent.

The increase in building construction for July was entirely in non-residential building which showed an 81.2 per cent gain over July, 1928. The class of buildings showing increases within the non-residential group were amusement and recreation places; factories and workshops; garages, both private and public; gasoline service stations; public buildings, schools, sheds, and miscellaneous non-residential buildings. A decline of 4.4 per cent was recorded in residential building construction for July, 1929, as compared with July, 1928. Additions, alterations and repair work likewise showed a decline for residential buildings but an increase for non-residential buildings.

Comparable building permit data is available for 38 cities and boroughs for the first seven months of 1929 and 1928. These 38 cities and boroughs report construction work totaling $130,705,881 for the first seven months of 1929 as compared with $137,501,468 for the corresponding period in 1928, a decline in 1929 of only $6,795,587, or 4.9 per cent. While the net decline in building for the 38 cities and boroughs amounted to only 5 per cent, 26 of the 38 municipalities report less building the first seven months in 1929 than during the same period in 1928. The decrease in building for the 26 cities and boroughs reporting decreases amounts to 35.8 per cent.

Legion Delegates Leave For Scranton

Representatives Of Gaston Post Will Make Strong Bid For Next Convention

Headed by Post Commander Ivar V. Davis, delegates to the big state convention at Scranton, accompanied by several members of the post, left early last evening for the eastern city, where the colorful state sessions will open today. The other delegates are Pat J. Dempsey, H. H. Rosenchal and Bernard Hook. Guy M. Wadlinger, one of the alternates is already in Scranton having left for there several days ago.

The local delegation will ask that the next state convention be brought to New Castle but in view of the fact that Harrisburg has a prior claim, they do not expect to receive consideration this year. They will be in line for the convention in 1931, however.

Great preparations have been made to take care of a record crowd by the Scranton Legion post and citizens of that city, and more than 35,000 Legionnaires and visitors are expected to attend the three days sessions of the convention.

Superintendent Tells Of Hospital

Explains Whys And Wherefores Of New Jameson Memorial

Explaining the work of a community hospital was the task that Superintendent Carl Brimmer of the Jameson Memorial hospital most ably performed when he addressed the New Castle Tribune club when it met in the Elks club Wednesday.

Dr. C. O. Dickey, local physician and member of the club, introduced the speaker.

During the course of the splendid address, Mr. Brimmer said that nowhere in this district does he believe there stands a hospital plant such as the one formally presented to this community last week. He believed it is unequalled.

"The public must know of a hospital's workings," he continued, "if it is to benefit the nation in the future, so I have taken this opportunity and privilege to inform you of just what the facts surrounding the Jameson Memorial hospital are."

After explaining the floor plan and pointing out specific departments, just recently devised, he spoke briefly of the charity patient and his relation to the state. He told what amount the state pays the local institution for the upkeep of patients who require public aid.

In conclusion, said he: "Today there are three factors which every citizen thinks of, the church, the school and our health facilities. The hospital stands out foremost among the three of these, to stimulate health in its respective community."

Superintendent Brimmer extended a most cordial invitation to visit the hospital to every member of the club.

Conquering the air is like a world war. Men go their limit to conquer it and then it won't stay locked.

Its age is a private matter

It is very difficult to discover, by its appearance, how old a Lincoln is. Lincoln believes in making automobiles so beautiful that they are always modern — so durable that they simply won't wear out. The age of a Lincoln is no one's concern—least of all its owner's. On the boulevards a Lincoln of last season and the newest model share honors equally with Lincolns years older than either.

So fine is this car that a year or so of use does not perceptibly detract from any of its splendid qualities. Lincoln owners are often men who can, and do, provide the best professional care for their cars. Sometimes such well-kept cars are available at very attractive prices from Lincoln dealers. The wisdom of investing in such a motor car is quite evident, and shrewd buyers are quick to take advantage of the opportunity.

A few such Lincolns are now to be seen on our floor. Every one is in perfect mechanical condition. We are always glad to demonstrate them to you, without the slightest obligation. Drop in today.

P. D. GAINES, Originator of the RHEU-GO Treatment Says:

I am a Registered Pharmacist in two states and while attending a school of pharmacy, several years ago I became interested in the treatment of rheumatism and its kindred ailments.

After careful study and realizing the proper drugs to use for speedy relief—and if possible a cure—for these diseases, also realizing that these drugs oft-times destroy or nauseate the stomach—I began my study to overcome these difficulties.

As the years went by and by the aid and untiring help of brother Pharmacists and by careful study of these well-known drugs and their action on the system, for relief and treatment of pain and swollen joints, I finally reached the goal I had sought and perfected this well-known treatment of today.

Sincerely P. D. GAINES.

P. S.—I wish to further say, that I have been a rheumatic sufferer for fifteen years, suffering the most painful form, known as Sciatica. I have had various treatments, including the mineral baths, electrical and medical attention in various parts of the country. I WILL EXPLAIN FULLY AT NEW CASTLE DRUG CO.'S STORE HOW I WAS CURED.

Mr. Rheumatic Sufferer, We Are Talking to You—

Rheumatism is a dangerous, peculiar disease of the blood — few escape its dreadful tortures, because we fail to heed the warning that Rheumatism eventually, (if not checked in time) will destroy every fibre of manhood or womanhood.

Therefore we appeal to every Rheumatic sufferer in New Castle and vicinity to come to New Castle Drug Co. and find out for himself just what the RHEU-GO TREATMENT is—investigate it thoroughly—and then you can be the judge.

No matter how you suffer or what form of Rheumatism or similar disease you suffer from—regardless of the above disease—we merely ask that you investigate this treatment, as it may be worth its weight in gold to you.

To those who have given up hope, spent hundreds of dollars and months and years of valuable time seeking relief—to those who have suffered only a few slight attacks—to the skeptical—we ask that you talk with Mr. Gaines as he will freely answer all questions and gladly explain the RHEU-GO Treatment in full.

New Castle Drug Co. Says:

Only by owning and operating two of the best-known stores in this section of the state were we able to induce Mr. Gaines, originator of the RHEU-GO TREATMENT to appear personally and converse with the rheumatic sufferers of New Castle and vicinity.

Please feel free to take advantage of this opportunity, as Mr. Gaines comes to our stores very highly recommended.

Beauty Of Radioland Once Fooled 'Em All With Masculine Voice

HARRIET LEE

By ALMA SIOUX SCARBERRY
Central Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—We don't expect much argument from the boys around the broadcasting studio where Harriet Lee holds forth when we tell you that, in our humble opinion, she is about the prettiest girl on the air. In other words, Harriet is a honey!

Golden blonde hair is a flat finger wave curving over her lovely head—and blue eyes with a deep, intelligent expression. Creamy skin. Tall and just slender enough to keep wholesome and girlish. A true American type of beauty.

We have a surprise for the folks out around Chicago. It never has been told before, Harriet assures us. She is the mysterious "Bobby Lee" who used to broadcast with Ted Pi-orito's orchestra at Edgewater Beach. The "mike" was in a little room off the dining room and Harriet never was seen by her public. She wore small ear phones to listen to the music while she warbled.

Letters From Girls

It was the general opinion that the clever crooner of mean blues was a man. Many and many were the letters written by smitten girls wanting to have just one look at Bobby Lee, to see whether "he" was as good looking as "his" voice was appealing. And they used to keep the telephone buzzing, wanting to have just a little word with Bobby.

This amused Harriet very much. It was an intriguing stunt, and a good publicity gag. When her fans find out that she is also the famous "Aunt May," who had the Children's Hour every night with the "Pied Piper," they probably will have to have the smelling salts. She was one of the best known radio stars in Chicago for four and a half years before coming to New York.

Still Can Hear Her

Now she is on a coast to coast hook-up and her Chicago gang can still tune in and hear "Aunt May"—dear Auntie May who used to put the little folk to bed so sweetly—sing red hot songs that make Dame Sophie Tucker look to her posies as the "fast of the red hot mammas." It is just impossible to imagine Harriet Lee singing in such a deep contralto that she sounds like a man. She is so entirely feminine in her speaking voice and manner. For that matter, this hoty tosy little blonde has two very distinct singing voices. So that she can switch suddenly from a manly blue song to a lady-like yodel.

Harriet has just gone through a movie test. It's a safe bet that the gabbing cinema will finally claim the little lady from the land of machine guns and Big Bill Thompson.

Most Explosives Used In State

(Special To The News)
WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—Pennsylvania was the most "explosive" state in the country during July, when consumers in the Keystone State used a total of 7,219,580 pounds of high explosives, according to figures gathered by the bureau of mines of the Commerce Department.

Of the total Pennsylvania consumption in July, 1,584,325 pounds were black blasting powder, 3,356,381 pounds were high explosives other than permissible, and 2,278,874 pounds were permissible explosives, according to the bureau of mines report.

Pennsylvania far outdistanced every other state in the Union in consumption of explosives during the month.

Many motor wrecks are now ascribed to bees flying in and flustering the driver. All of which saves time, since the motorist doesn't have to be haled into court to be stung.—The Butte Daily Post.

Valves ground to perfect waste, carbon removed, the motor tuned up by necessary repairs made in time means real economy—real driving pleasure.

Modernist Cathedral For Liverpool Expresses Spirit Of 20th Century

(International News Service)
LIVERPOOL, Aug. 28.—A modernist cathedral, expressing the twentieth century spirit, is to be built at Liverpool. It will be a great new building to break away from all conventional architecture, and will be designed by Sir Edwin Lutyens, famous designer of the Cenotaph and the Imperial Delhi.

Liverpool already has a new cathedral if imposing grandeur, but the structure conceived by Sir Edwin is to be an architectural expression of an "age of its own that deserves magnificent interpretation."

Subscriptions towards the cost of the new cathedral which have been collected for many years past now total between $900,000 and $1,000,000. The bulk of the money has been provided by the efforts of the poor. Now that definite plans have been made it is expected that substantial subscriptions will be numerous.

Archbishop Downey told of the thought that has actuated him.

"All cathedrals hitherto have been dedicated to saints. I want this to be unique in that it will be dedicated to Christ the King. Imagine a cathedral dominating the city and the river, with a great figure of Christ the King on top. What an inspiration it is going to be!

"I am very hopeful that our site will be on the hill we need. The great figure of Christ the King visible from the Atlantic and illuminated at night would be a wonderful symbol to all who pass through Liverpool's gateway to the world."

Report Endurance Plane Forced Down

Capt. Ira Eaker Is Down At Cleveland In Refueling Attempt

(Associated Press Service)
CLEVELAND, Aug. 29.—Capt. Ira Eaker, who was attempting to set a transcontinental endurance and refueling record, was forced down at the Cleveland airport in his Boeing mail transport plane "The Shuttle" about midnight last night in a refueling attempt, it was reported early today.

According to witnesses, a five-gallon can of oil dropped from the refueling craft and struck a wing of "The Shuttle," splintering the endurance with oil. A portion of the endurancer's wing was torn away in landing. It was said. Neither Capt. Eaker nor his co-pilot, Lieut. Bernard Thompson, were injured.

Airport officials, however, professed no knowledge of the landing this morning. "The Shuttle" had completed one leg of the projected flight, having flown from Oakland, Cal., to New York. It was to have made its second trip last night.

Foreign War Vets Urge Defense Act

Appropriations Committee Criticized For "Inertia" In Supplying Funds

ST. PAUL, Aug. 29.—Veterans of Foreign Wars Wednesday went on record favoring more active attention by the federal government to carrying out the provisions of the national defense act at their 30th annual encampment here.

Criticizing the appropriations committee of the national house of representatives for "inertia" in respect to supplying funds, a resolution was adopted charging that the defense act has been "emasculated." It urged that "adequate, efficient and prompt execution of the requirements of the act, which is the will of the people of the United States," be taken.

Labor Shortage In Coal Field Feared

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., Aug. 29.—Officials of the Central Pennsylvania Coal Producers' association at Altoona today implicated that a labor shortage is considered altogether possible during the coming winter. The exodus of miners into other occupations during the protracted slump in the coal business, together with the fact that stocks of coal in the hands of the big consumers, railroads and others is the lowest it has been since 1923, leads the officials to believe that there will not be enough miners to fill demands. Coal loading for central Pennsylvania continue on the increase, it is seen, and the growth is expected to be more pronounced as the weeks advance.

Before lighthouses were lit by oil and later electricity, they were lit by coal fires.

Treasury Vaults Hold Varied List In State's Funds

HARRISBURG, Aug. 28.—Among the $500,000-bonds, the numerous $100,000-bonds and securities of lesser denominations in the vault of the State treasury at Harrisburg are four lonesome dollar bills, guarded by General Edward Martin, State treasurer, quite as zealously as the brilliantly lithographed pieces of collateral which total the ransom of several very valuable kins. General Martin has in his possession securities totaling $108,213,118.82.

Securities in the treasury vaults are listed as follows:

Agricultural college land script fund, $470,500; bank collateral, $16,742,300; Battelle commission, $1,000; insurance department collateral, $6,817,700; old state bank, $1204; private brokers' collateral, $734,751; school employees' retirement fund, $61,111,520; sinking fund, $6,342,000; state employees' retirement fund, $6,048,200; state insurance fund, $50,000; state school fund, $1181,250; State workmen's insurance fund, $8,892,403.32; stock owned, taken in settlement of indebtedness, $17,930.

In 1862 the Federal government gave the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania $500,000 for the purpose of founding an agricultural state college. The original $500,000-bond was canceled at its maturity and the funds reinvested after certain necessary expenditures were made, and the Commonwealth and municipal bonds now held for State College are guaranteed to pay five per cent per year.

The Commonwealth of Pennsylvania has eight active and a large number of inactive depositors in which state moneys are held on deposit—funds in the active checked against daily in the payment of state bills; those in the inactive depositors not checked against. To guarantee state deposits given them these banking institutions must deposit either United States government or Pennsylvania highway bonds, no other form of security is accepted. The total of such bonds now approaches the $17,000,000 mark.

To the credit of the Battelle Commission in the treasury department are bonds totaling $100 representing an appropriation by the state for the maintenance and upkeep of a monument erected at Petersburg Va. in memory of the exploits of the Third Division, Ninth Corps, Army of the Potomac during the Civil war. The interest on the bonds is paid annually to the Battelle Commission.

The bonds credited to the Insurance department are those placed as collateral by Pennsylvania Insurance corporations and firms doing business beyond the state's boundaries.

The bonds credited to "old state banks" were placed originally as collateral for the redemption of notes. The total of $1,204 including a state bond for $1,000 dated 1861, two $200 United States consols dated 1877 and four dollars in currency mentioned above.

Ten bonds deposited by private bankers in collateral guaranteeing their deposits and includes paper of many descriptions all of which has been approved by the state banking department.

The bonds credited to the school employees' retirement fund and the state employees' retirement fund represent the savings of teachers and state workers plus appropriations by the Commonwealth and invested in good security.

Bonds credited to the sinking fund are for the eventual redemption of state highway bonds. The legislature biennially makes an appropriation to this fund from motor license fees. It includes only U. S. government or state bonds guaranteed to yield four per cent annually.

The state insurance fund bonds now on deposit total $50,000, but the 1928 Legislature transferred $1,199,106 from the insurance tax fund to the state insurance fund, and the Board of Finance and Revenue at an early meeting will purchase additional securities. This is the fund with which the Commonwealth protects itself against fire losses.

What is known as the state school fund contains money appropriated by the 1911 Legislature for the purpose of equalizing education advantages throughout the state, and "to promote education in the conservation of natural resources." From time to time loans are made to poor school districts by the State Council of Education, which controls the fund and its investment.

The State Workmen's Insurance fund securities represents that body's surplus, and safeguards its policy holder's.

The Commonwealth has $17,930 which it acquired in a peculiar manner. A great many years ago John Bardsley, treasurer of Philadelphia, defaulted. He was in the Commonwealth's debt, having collected taxes which he failed to turn over. The sum mentioned represents securities taken by the state to cover that indebtedness.

The value of the securities held by General Martin lessens as collateral is redeemed and increases as new bonds are bought.

THRILLING EVENTS HOLD ATTENTION

By HOMER H. METZ
International News Service Aviation

Cleveland, Aug. 29.—With the greatest aviation field day in history, a thing of the past, interest among the spectators at the national air races today was centered on an attempt by Mae Hazlip, women's derby participant of Kansas City, to wrest the solo endurance flight for women honors away from 18-year-old Elinor Smith of New York.

Miss Hazlip, who failed to finish in the money in the derby, was scheduled to go aloft some time this afternoon with the determination not to come down until her feminine constitution or motor compelled her to.

Other events scheduled for the day that are of major importance are the start of the Rim-of-Ohio derby, postponed from earlier in the week; dead stick landing contests for women, the finish of the Canadian derby and the possible arrival of the flyers in the non-stop Los Angeles-to-Cleveland derby.

Lee Schoenhair, one of the entrants in the last named race, arrived here Tuesday after covering the long hop in slightly less than 14 hours.

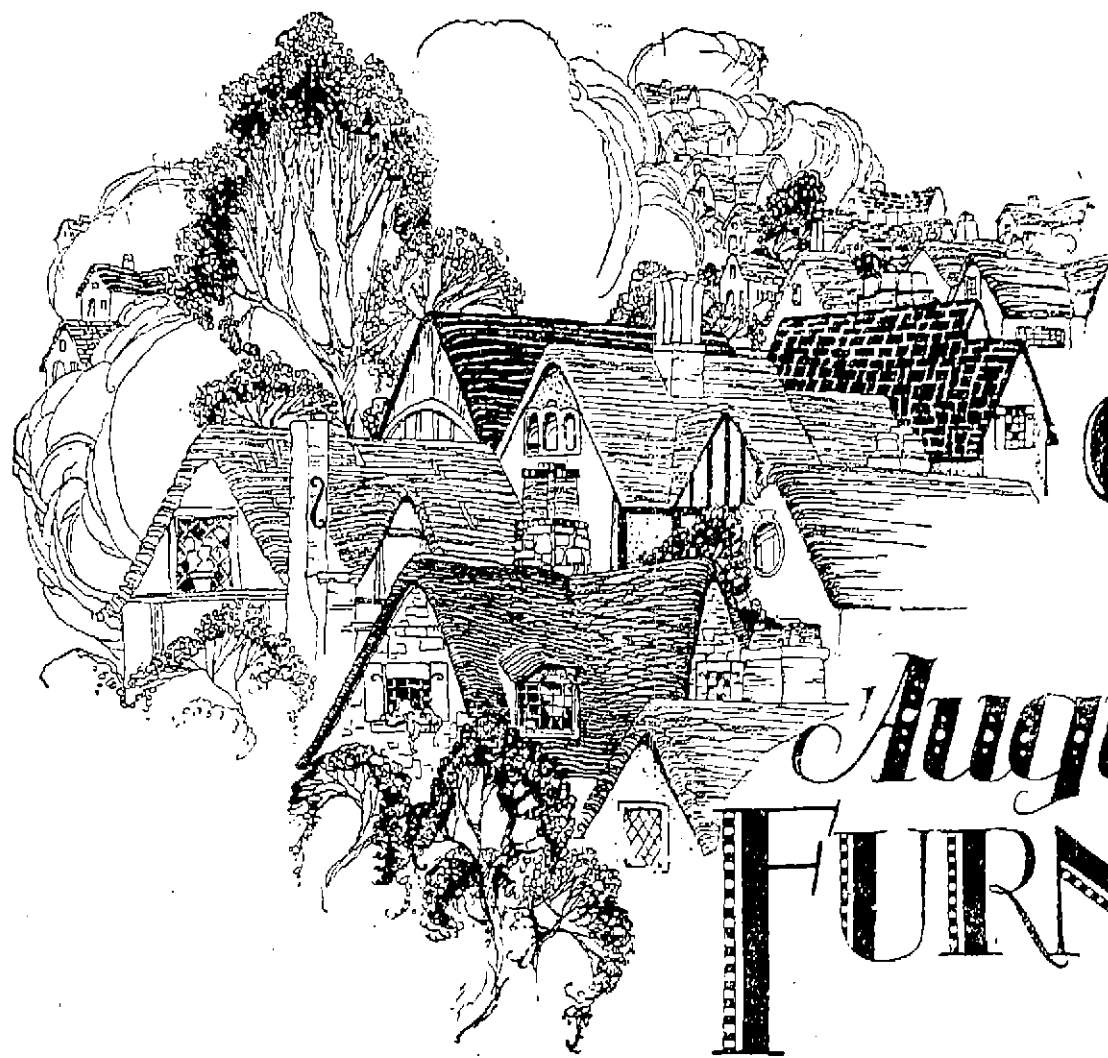

Biggest Day Yet.
Yesterday was truly the biggest day of the 1929 races or any other races for that matter. Fully 80,000 persons of a description fought, bribed and pushed their way into the grandstand at the airport. Things—thrilling, interesting and otherwise—were taking place constantly throughout the day, finish of two derbies, the Philadelphia and Portland derbies, and ending with the flight over the city of the Graf Zeppelin late at night.

The Los Angeles arrived at the field shortly after 1 o'clock and after flying over the city and crowd was flown to a point in front of the grandstand where an exhibition was given of the navy's newly perfected stunt of hooking a moving plane onto a trapeze suspended from the big dirigible.

With this accomplished, the Los Angeles was moored to a specially constructed mast in the center of the field, where it will remain until late today before taking off for Lakehurst, N. J., if weather permitted.

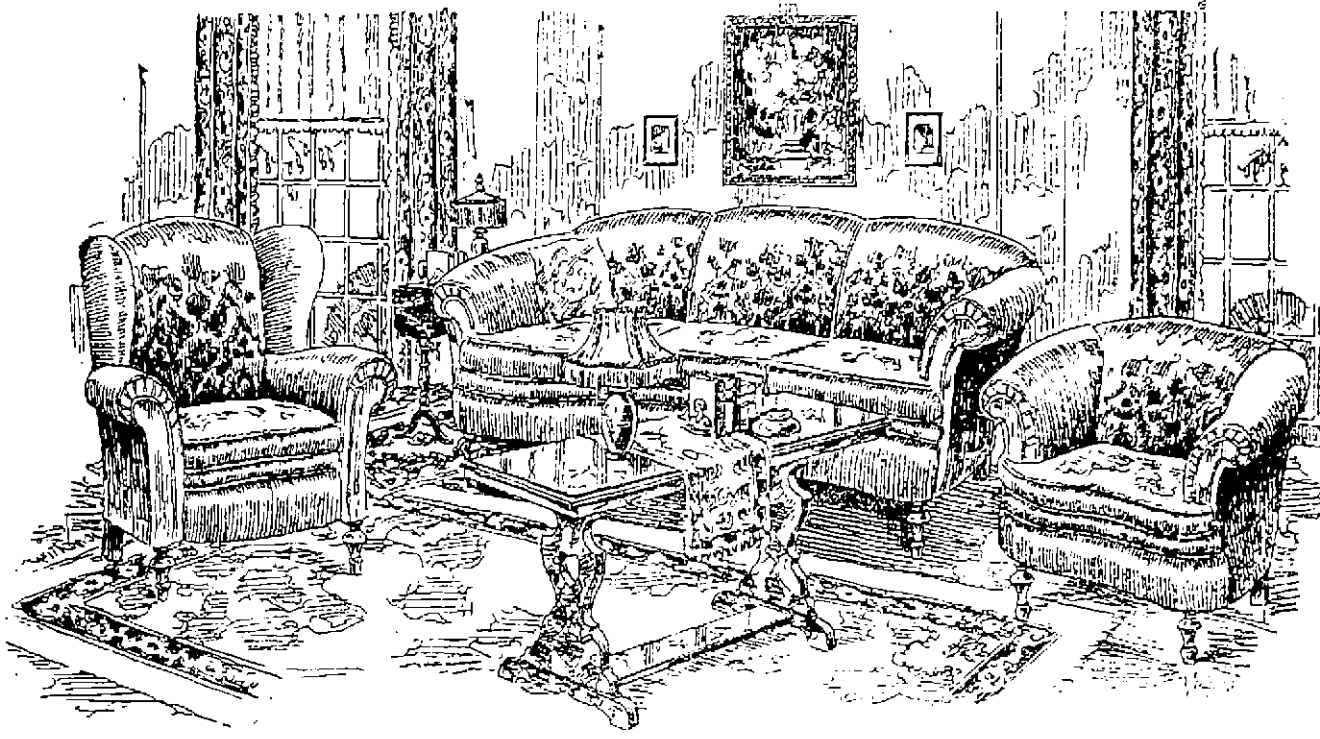

MODEL ANSWERS CRITICS
Monna Lils, who sat for Van Dongen's painting, "Femme du Monde" (Society Woman), which is the sensation of the Paris Salon, has answered the critics, who declare that it emphasizes the sitter's legs more than her face. Mlle. Lils says that as a cinema artist she has a right to show her legs, to which nature has given the classic proportions, without offending public modesty. Von Dongen, noted also for his wonderful beard and his monster studio receptions, is mute on the subject, and evidently is enjoying the tiny tempest his work has aroused.

Reopening Of Schools Will Create Traffic Hazards For Autoists

Motorists Are Urged to Renew Vigilance As Children Return To Studies

Should Feel Obligated To Have Part In Humanitarian Work, A. A. A. Head Says

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 29.—One the eve of the reopening of public, private and parochial schools throughout the country, the American Automobile association today broadcast a warning to motorists that the return of millions of children to the schoolroom will create new traffic hazards and urged careful driving on the part of every car owner.

The national motoring body pointed out that the prevention of accidents involving school children is largely within the province of the motorist, and the exercise of caution will go far in reducing the number of deaths and injuries.

"School days are just ahead," says the statement, "and millions of children will be upon the streets and highways. In this vast army will be little ones of four, five and six years of age who for the first time are leaving the protection and safety of their homes to enter an entirely new world. There will be problems enough without that of the reckless driver."

"While there is no doubt that teaching of safety in the schools throughout the country, safety posters and the effective work of the schoolboy patrols has done much to protect these youngsters, the problem will still remain as a challenge to the nation. Motorists Obligated."

"Every motorist should feel obligated to have a part in this great humanitarian work, and they should realize the enormous difference their care and consideration would mean in keeping these children safe from physical harm as well as from a fear that they may make the rest of their lives. Such a spirit on the part of the car owners will do more than anything else to make for safety."

The A. A. A. declared that while safety is now a part of the curriculum in many states, and children who have been taught the rudiments of safety, they cannot always be expected to exercise the utmost care. After spending a vacation period on safe playgrounds, there is a tendency toward a let-down in their safety sense when they first return to the streets. "Unless the drivers of all motor vehicles are on their guard at all times, this let-down will result in many fatalities and injuries," says the statement. It continues:

Respect Patrols.

"The reduction of accidents that is traceable to the establishment of school-boy patrols in hundreds of schools throughout the country is evidence that the courteous helpfulness of motor car drivers has been extended to these youngsters whose white belts and arm bands identify them as safety crusaders. There is every reason to believe that still greater cooperation will be given during this school year."

"The motor car operators have learned that when the boy patrolman holds up his hand or sees the stop sign against them that it is not an order but a plea for assistance. Who could resist such a plea when behind it is the calm, confident trust of a child?"

Many more schools will have patrols this year, the A. A. A. leaders declare. There is no question but that they will result in the saving of many lives because the patrolman is respected not only by the motorist but by the children whom he is trying to aid.

The capacity of the average man for deceiving himself is very great—and it is a fortunate gift for himself that otherwise he might do without. Paris tailors devise a suit for men consisting of a brown coat, blue sleeves, a white vest decorated with stars, blue trousers and green shoes. Not many men would go that far in adornment but they go a long way trying to prove to themselves and the on-looking world that they are young. More and more powders, cosmetics, beautifying toilet articles are sold to them. They turn from one thing to another seeking to preserve the illusion of youth.

Figures from Paris show that despite the continued increase in the cost of living, theaters and all sorts of amusement places have increased profits. Humans will give up the necessities. They will endure inconvenience. They will suffer much but pleasure, entertainment that can be bought, even at a high price. Apparently man was meant to laugh. It is instinctive and he will go through with it.

NOT TOO LATE.

Brian, foremost statesman of France, has been prime minister of his country ten times. He is one of the really great men of Europe. There are few great men in any land. The point for young folks to remember about Brian is that at 35 he was considered a failure. He hadn't "gotten anywhere." He didn't make the mistake of thinking it was too late. Two things Brian kept by him—hope and faith. Now he is 67—and called again to the highest place in his government.

TALKIES.

The talkies will catch the language of the head hunters of the South Seas the wild men of Borneo. Motion picture audiences will hear the voices of the blacks of the Congo. Of all the uses to which the motion picture is put, the films that show us the far ends of the earth and how other humans live are the most valuable and the most entertaining. More and more will the talkies serve the purpose of education.

SENSATIONAL TIRE SALE STARTS TODAY. PRICES REDUCED FOR HOLIDAY

NOW'S THE TIME TO BUY, MR. CAR-OWNER! Even if we didn't have special prices in effect, you couldn't do better than buy new rubber right now! Because good tires now will carry you safely through the winter... and come out in such good shape that when you trade in your car, the condition of your tires will add a lot to its cash value.

LABOR DAY'S coming. Last holiday of the summer. Last chance to get out for a week-end of driving...

Well... don't take that chance! Because we've priced all of our tires at special low figures... just for you and other Labor Day drivers!

And they're all Goodrich Tires, every one of them! Tires built up on a carcass of stretch-matched cord and cured by the famous Goodrich water-cure process. The process that makes the last bit of rubber wear as slowly as the first!

So figure it out, right now! Remember what the summer's driving has done to your present tires.

Then take another look at those figures! Find your size! Then drop around... we'll have a man ready to put on new casings in no time at all.

The Story Of The World War
The "Zimmerman Note"

IN JANUARY, 1917, STARTLING EVIDENCE WAS BROUGHT TO LIGHT THAT GERMANY WAS SECRETLY PLOTTING TO FORM A MILITARY ALLIANCE WITH MEXICO IN ANTICIPATION OF WAR WITH THE UNITED STATES. THE PROOF LAY IN A NOTE CONTAINING INSTRUCTIONS IN SECRET CODE SENT BY HERR ZIMMERMAN, HEAD OF THE GERMAN FOREIGN OFFICE, TO THE GERMAN MINISTER IN MEXICO CITY.

THE WIRELESS MESSAGE IN BEING RELAYED FROM BERLIN WAS PICKED UP BY BRITISH NAVAL AUTHORITIES, WHO DECIPHERED IT AND AT ONCE INFORMED WALTER HINES PAGE, AMERICAN AMBASSADOR AT LONDON, OF ITS CONTENTS. AMBASSADOR PAGE PROMPTLY SENT A COPY OF THE "ZIMMERMAN NOTE" TO WASHINGTON.

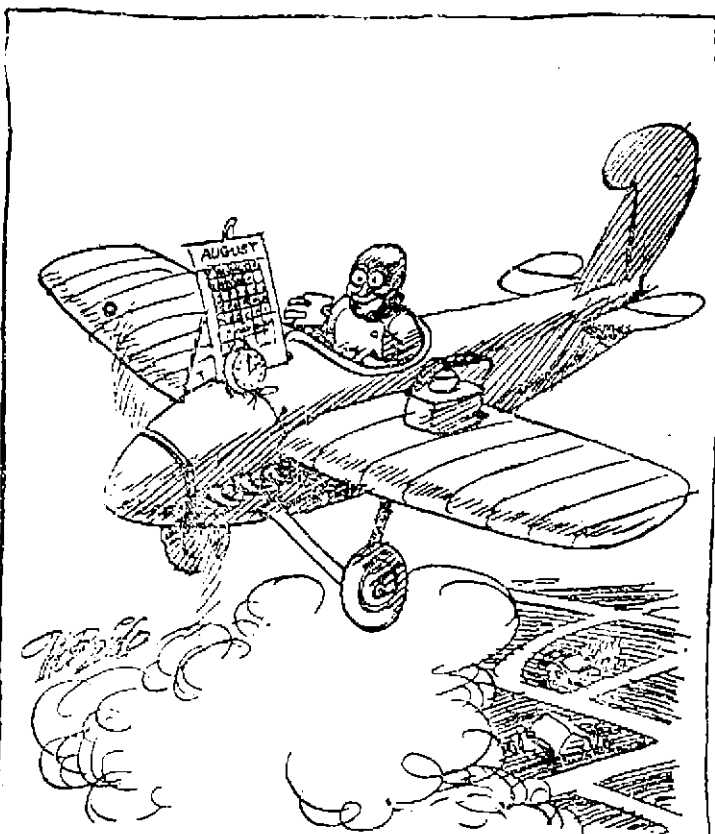

IN THE NOTE HERR ZIMMERMAN INFORMED THE GERMAN MINISTER IN MEXICO THAT ON FEBRUARY 1, 1917, GERMANY WOULD BEGIN UNRESTRICTED SUBMARINE WARFARE. SHOULD THIS BRING AMERICA INTO THE WAR ON THE SIDE OF THE ALLIES, THE GERMAN MINISTER WAS INSTRUCTED TO PROPOSE A MILITARY ALLIANCE BETWEEN GERMANY AND MEXICO AGAINST THE UNITED STATES, AND OFFER AS BAIT TEXAS, NEW MEXICO AND ARIZONA.

THE GERMAN MINISTER WAS ALSO ORDERED IN THE EVENT OF WAR WITH AMERICA TO URGE MEXICO TO SEEK AN ALLIANCE WITH JAPAN AND MEDIATE BETWEEN JAPAN AND GERMANY. WHEN THE ZIMMERMAN NOTE WAS PUBLISHED IN THE NEWSPAPERS OF THE UNITED STATES A STORM OF INDIGNATION SWEEPED THE COUNTRY.

TOMORROW—DIPLOMATIC RELATIONS WITH GERMANY SEVERED.

GIRL REPORTER ON NEWS GIVES FAIR IMPRESSIONS

(By JANET KISSINGER)

Cows to the right of us, pigs to the left of us, horses in front of us, and monkeys to the left of us, humans to the right of us, chickens at the back of us, now guess where we were?

In case none guess what the writer is talking about, it is the fair—the big New Castle Fair. It is great, wonderful, or what have you. It went off with a bang, and is still banging.

Everyone was there, Wednesday, from the fortune tellers, professional barkers and news reporters to our numerous flock of candidates.

The writer saw more kinds of cows than she ever suspected to exist. There were white ones, black ones, curly headed ones, little ones, bigger ones, huge ones, ugly ones and pretty ones—believe it or not.

And the pigs, why bring them up? The annual pig reunion is better attended this year than ever before, and the event was enjoyed by all.

The chickens, feathered ones, to be more specific, were there en masse, and a beautiful lot they were—and the ones who didn't have feathers were good-looking, also. In fact, some of these latter should have had prizes, too.

Hot dog stands, fortune tellers, nickel photographers, bingo tables, merry-go-rounds, chance games—the New Castle Fair has it, them and those.

Ponies, peanuts, fancy-work and snakes—or at least an animal that looked like a snake and something like a lizard and with a name so long that we will not mention it here but will just call it "Jim." It is straight from India and eats once a year anything from snakes' eggs to hens' eggs, and the rest of the year it lives on the fat which it stores in its tail. Absolutely true, all this, according to the barker. Now, don't say "there ain't no such animal!"

Aside from the cattle, horses and chickens, there is a remarkable collection of farm products in one of the buildings. Dozens of different varieties of apples, peaches, pears, cucumbers, squashes and potatoes are on display.

The writer saw several persons walking along with 25 pound sacks of sugar under their arms. Also some with 10 pound sacks. Very unusual to see at a fair, but you see, it is an especially sweet fair this year!

And then more hot coffee, apple pie, wooly dogs and monkeys! Not all together, of course, but not so very far separated. Or, if you are too warm, you can drink pop and eat ice-balls. But last evening it was not warm—in fact many people wore blankets over their shoulders—the lucky winners, you know.

The grandstand drew a large crowd. There were three races. Four starters in one race, ten in another and five starters in the third. And folks, they were races what am races, if you understand what this reporter means. They caused the gnashing of the teeth of some people and the clapping of hands of others but everybody enjoyed them immensely.

The flower booths contain many beautiful bouquets of Peonies, Delphiniums, Gladioli and Perennial plants. They are worth traveling many miles to see.

The writer noticed a young man with his arms full of blankets. Jupiter must have favored this lad.

Another young man had won a baby doll. He was having quite a hard time keeping the doll from being injured. He was heard to say, "Aw, someone knocked all the teeth outa my baby doll."

Along the midway is the palmist who will tell your entire life and future by your hand, and the Phrenologist who will tell you all that and more, by your head.

And then the hog-calling contest—well, that speaks for itself.

The best business man at the fair was the monkey whose job it was to amuse the customer by riding a bicycle around a circle, when that customer knocks down several objects with base balls. The monkey was alert, happy, interested and anxious to please.

The New Castle Fair is an institution of long standing and with its wide diversity of attractions it will always hold the interest of the people.

Lady Drummond Hay Says Zep World Flight Simply Marvelous Feat

Only Woman Passenger On Graf Zeppelin Excited And Nervous In Landing

William B. Leeds, New York
Banker Shares Opinion; Rosendahl Praises
Zep Crew

By LESTER P. STONE
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LAKEHURST, N. J., Aug. 29.—The only woman passenger on the history-making round-the-world flight of the Graf Zeppelin, Lady Drummond Hay, was singled out by the throngs welcoming the airship today.

A petite figure in a brown leather coat and black turtleneck she stepped from the air liner to receive the most vociferous welcome of any of the passengers.

"I am happy, oh, so happy to have made the flight," were her first words as she gratefully bowed her head to the overwhelming tribute as she reached the ground. "but please—oh, I did not know it would be like this. I am so excited."

She was whisked to a waiting car and immediately driven to the naval welfare station where she talked on the radio. In one hand she carried a large brown handbag and in the other a large black hat which she did not have time to pack away.

Talks Over Radio

At the welfare station she doffed her coat, revealing a blue serge tailored suit with a pin stripe, white gloves, a yellow blouse, and low heeled patent leather pumps.

"Oh, I can't," she said when asked to step before the microphone. "This is so unexpected and I am entirely unprepared."

But she stepped forward before the distinguished audience and in simple straightforward fashion said:

"I am the happiest girl in the world to have made this flight around the world. It was the most wonderful trip I have ever made. I am glad to have been among those who have made the flight. I know you will excuse me if I stop now as I am nervous and overworked."

She went to the doorway to find herself controlled by a battery of cameramen. Then an operator of a talking newsreel asked her to say a few words but she refused his persistent entreaties.

"Everything was so wonderful and peaceful that I wanted to enjoy my last night aboard the Zeppelin to the fullest," she explained. "As a consequence, I only slept about two or three hours and I am tired and nervous. Please excuse me from talking."

Leeds Given Welcome

She then boarded a private limousine bound for New York City. Another passenger who received a wild greeting was William B. Leeds, New York banker and husband of Princess Xenia of Greece.

As he stepped from the ship, a tremendous cry of welcome went up with feminine voices dominating. "Isn't he just handsome," came from a number of girlish voices in unison.

But Leeds did not stay for his ovation. In a twinkling he disappeared in the throng and a minute later jumped into a waiting car and drove off.

His wife was not there to greet him. She is believed to be in Europe where he is expected to join her soon.

Commander Charles E. Rosendahl, United States Naval Observer aboard the airship, the first to leave the craft, foresaw in the flight a new era in the history of aviation. He said it was easily accomplished and praised the smooth efficiency of the Graf's crew.

fog and typhoon. It had arched over two great oceans, the barren wastes of Siberia upon part of which man had never gazed before.

It had outlasted the hazard of skimming high tension wires teeming with death-dealing electricity, not so far from home. It had placed the world in the palm of man and clenched it smaller.

The epic flight of the dirigible made only a memory of man's previous world-girdling record.

the world by train, plane and ship in 23 days, 15 hours and 21 minutes. That was in 1927 E. G. (Before the Graf).

The Graf's feat was further glorified in that it was only in the air about 11½ days. It has spent almost an equal period of inactivity in being refueled at Friedrichshafen, Tokyo and Los Angeles.

Sighted By Crowd
Through a faint mist, the silver torpedo grew out of the northwest as thousands of pilgrims cheered louder than the dulcet-humming motors.

The airport sirens began screaming. The crowd broke through the heavy guard of marines who perhaps forgot their duty to gaze at the silver sunbeam coasting into port.

Meanwhile, back in the hangar, Edward E. Bonner, janitor of the structure, kept swinging his broom while history was being made outside.

"I seen it, what the heck," he said, undisturbed by the hysteria raging about the airport.

The landing, completed by 8:13 a. m. (E. D. T.), to be recorded exactly for the sake of history, was as smooth as any ferry making its pier.

There was just the right amount of water ballast dropped by Dr. Hugo Eckener, the world-weary pilot. The Zeppelin settled to earth like a tired soap bubble.

Passengers Out

The first passengers to step out of the gondola were Lieutenant Commander Charles E. Rosendahl and Lieut. J. C. Richardson, both of the U. S. navy. They were both grinning happily.

"It was great," said Rosendahl. "It was great," declared Richardson.

An evidence of the skill of the ground crew was shown in the position of the airship when it landed. The nose of the ship was on a direct line with the entrance of the hangar.

The giant hangar doors were rolled back on the east and the rear doors opened about 15 inches to allow a draft.

The supplementary ground crew answered the bugle call and began swinging the Zeppelin into an exact vertical position for the walking into the hangar.

The motor truck and bus for the baggage and the passengers drove up to the side of the flying school master from Friedrichshafen.

The passengers climbed aboard for a trip to the welfare building and their formal customs and health examination.

Into Hangar

A very light wind was blowing as the nose of the Zeppelin passed into the mouth of the hangar. The crowd ran from point to point with the sweating ground crew.

The devil was plainly visible in the rudder, its wound from the narrow escape suffered in skimming the high voltage wires outside of Los Angeles in its last take-off.

The airship was one-quarter berthed, one-half, now three-quarters. "Keep it coming," shouted Lieut. C. E. Peck, in charge of the operations. Dr. Eckener, the Zeppelin commander, watched the delicate maneuvering as anxiously as a parent in the operating room praying for his child.

William P. McCracken, assistant secretary of commerce, stepped into the gondola and greeted Knute Eckener, the handsome, blonde son of the Zeppelin pilot.

Several of the German passengers stepped to the radio microphone and spoke a few excited words in German. The broadcast is being relayed to Germany.

One of the Germans looked as if he stepped off a commutator train. He wore a gray golf costume. Several had cameras slung over their shoulders.

William B. Leeds, the adventurous young millionaire, came in for a great deal of applause as did Lady Drummond Hay and Sir Hubert Wilkins.

Lady Hay wore a rubber coat with a black hat and had her arms filled with presents from admirers.

Incidentally, one of the visitors, Mildred Stevens, stage beauty, was frequently mistaken by the crowds for Lady Hay.

Leave Saturday

Dr. Eckener, after the dirigible was hanged, was interviewed in the midst of a swirling mob of newspapermen.

He declared the airship would take off for Friedrichshafen probably by Saturday under command of Captain Ernst Lehman. Eckener said he would stay behind for about two weeks and visit President Hoover in Washington and go to Akron, O., on business. It is understood he will advise the Zeppelin Goodyear company.

"I have not retired from active dirigible duty and expect to command the Graf Zeppelin on important trips," he said.

"Whether the round-the-world flight of the Graf Zeppelin was a success I shall leave to the public," said Dr. Eckener. "We suffered slight damage in Tokyo which was repaired in eight hours and we had a narrow escape, perhaps, at Los Angeles when we missed some high voltage wires. But I believe I am truthful in saying that there were no serious hazards during our entire trip."

"I am deeply moved by the cordiality of the reception given us by the whole American nation and we feel deeply grateful."

"Our reception was particularly impressive in San Francisco and the great ovation we received in Los Angeles will never be forgotten. Also, as we flew over Chicago there was more enthusiasm than I have ever experienced before in my life."

"But most of all, I am grateful for the cordiality and cooperation of the United States government and navy department."

"I am very happy at the intense interest shown by the people of the United States in the lighter-than-air machine. Two years ago the interest was not so strong and now after this flight I believe the public interest will pave the way for the lighter-than-air machine to put itself on the map of aviation."

Dr. Eckener then went on the radio and sent his greetings in German to his native land.

Lady Hay in a brief radio speech said the trip "was wonderful" and that she was very happy to be back in America.

Colonel Frank Knox, general manager of the Hearst newspapers, also spoke briefly on the radio. He commented on the success of the flight of the Graf Zeppelin which was sponsored by William Randolph Hearst. Lieut. J. C. Richardson, U. S. N., one of the Zeppelin passengers said the roughest weather encountered on the trip was 100 miles off Japan when the airship hit the tail end of a typhoon.

"The ship was under beautiful control, however, and was undamaged," he said.

He said the trip from Los Angeles to Lakehurst was only marked by somewhat rough sailing across the Rocky Mountains. Across the Pacific from Tokyo, the dirigible sped through fog for sixty hours, he said.

"The ship functioned beautifully throughout the entire voyage," said Lieutenant Richardson. "I believe the dirigible is the long-travel vehicle of the future."

"The greatest need for long-distance flights is for international cooperation in weather communications," Lieutenant Richardson continued.

"I do not say that the flight of the Graf Zep has established the dirigible as war weapon of defense but I think it has proven that long distance can be traveled safely in lighter than air craft."

LEGION SESSIONS AT SCRANTON ARE FORMALLY OPENED

no longer—who, having satisfactorily disposed of the minor matter of winning a world war have turned their attention toward a greater goal—the "Battle of Birth Control."

Figures a little bulkier, hair a bit sparser and, in some cases, a bit grayer, the legionnaires nevertheless march through Scranton's streets with the assured stride and eclat of the war-tried veterans that they are.

State Adjutant James J. Deighan, of Philadelphia, other department officers, and district commanders were seated on the platform when Commander Gebert rapped the convention to order.

After all the delegates had risen for the playing of "The Star Spangled Banner," Rev. Charles F. Gorman, of Philadelphia, State Chaplain, gave the invocation. A mass of silent reverence to comrades who have "Gone West" was followed by the address of welcome by Mayor E. B. Jermyn.

Harvey Bowman, of Williamsport, Central Vice-Commander, responded to the mayor on behalf of the veterans. Mayor Jermyn told the legionnaires that Scranton belonged to them for the next three days.

Local Legion posts extended a hearty welcome to their fellow ex-service men through Commander William C. Fauser of the Scranton posts.

Various committee reports were laid before the delegates after Congressman Lawrence E. Wallace of Scranton, himself a hero of the World War addressed the meeting.

A crackling of applause swelled into an approving roar when Commander Gebert, in the course of his message, told the delegates that the Pennsylvania Department of the American Legion now boasts of more than 63,000 members.

Report Is Read
The report of Adjutant Deighan was read to the veterans. Hospital work on behalf of disabled veterans, the assistance rendered by the "Forty and Eight," "The Eight and Forty" and the Women's Auxiliary were dwelt upon in the report.

Highlights of today's activities were to come this afternoon when Franklin D'Olier, First National Commander of the American Legion, and Edward E. Spafford, Past National Commander, will be welcomed to the convention. Olier and Spafford were scheduled to address the delegates later today.

Sixteen acres of land and a building in the Pocono mountains to form a home where invalid or disabled ex-service men will be cared for was presented to the legion today by Rustin Unit No. 3, of Philadelphia Auxiliary meeting. Mrs. William H. Blesler, Jr., of Drexel Hill, department president, made the presentation on behalf of the unit members.

When the convention committee was appointed, it found itself faced with the task of choosing between five cities which are seeking the 1930 gathering of the veterans.

Harrisburg, Pittsburgh, Philadelphia, New Castle and Wilkes-Barre have made earnest representations to secure next year's convention. Sentiment appears to favor Harrisburg.

Easton was also mentioned but it was stated later that that city had decided to withdraw from the competition.

The 12th district of the legion, located in Luzerne county, was the big prize winner the past year in the Pennsylvania department, L. A. Henderson of Montgomery, chairman of the membership committee, made known in his report to the convention today. Twelve of the 15 posts in the 12th district are "over the top" in the membership drive and win the department distinguished service certificates by going "over the top" before December 31, 1928.

New Castle Gets Honor.
West Pittston post 542 was awarded the Thompson cup which goes to the post with the highest percentage of membership over the previous year 30 days before the convention.

Department membership cups, on the point basis in different classes, were awarded to post 66, Clarion; post 542, West Pittston; post 343, New Castle; post 29, Allentown; and post 132, Wilkes-Barre.

Wilkes-Barre post 132 was honored with the Houston plaque, awarded to the post that completes the year with the largest membership. With these honors went the official district flag of the department to the 12th district for its glorious membership showing the past year.

Twelve legion posts were organized in Pennsylvania last year, making a total of 560 posts now functioning in the state.

MUNICIPAL GOLF COURSE IS POPULAR

Golfers Praise Fine New Course

Estimated That Over 350 Have Played On New Course Since Opening Day

MANAGER HART WELL PLEASED

By "BUGS" WALTHER

City Council scored a distinct hole-in-one when they opened the new Municipal Golf Course, at the old County Farm site. The course has been in operation but five days, and Manager "Hub" Hart on Wednesday told the writer that the register had picked up 350 patrons. Not bad for a new course. New Castle takes its place in the sun along with other cities maintaining public links. The local playground of the golfing populace is one of the finest in this section of the country.

Judging from the interest being shown at the Municipal Course, it will not be long until the venture is a fine paying proposition, and the next thing will be another course.

You must take into consideration that the course is a brand new one. Thirteen holes are ready for play. Next year the full eighteen holes will be utilized. The course is a little rough, but all courses are that way for the first few years. The site is a "natural" for golfing purposes. There are plenty of hazards, and pitfalls for the boys in fine shape. It is a tricky course to the golfer with not very much practice.

To date the register at the office of the club house shows that 235 single admission tickets have been sold to non-members, and 115 members holding season tickets have played the course.

The opening day, last Friday was not a fit golfing day. In a good four-day period the course has had better than 500 players each day. Not bad at all and this is bound to increase, as more and more of the people of New Castle and Lawrence county become golf-minded.

The writer today with Tommy Blake and Tommy Dugan, played the course on Wednesday and it was found to be excellent. As for the scores of this three-some, maybe we hadn't better mention it, as the well known trio of black face artists would have it. Anyway, the Municipal course was not to blame for the results.

Two Good Scores It was reported yesterday that Ollie West, of the East Side, had played nine holes with a 46, and that is good golf. His partner "Hippo" Twaddle had a 49, and that is not bad either. Now, they ever got over that 46-yard hole in less than ten is a mystery to the writer. Oh boy, that number 13 hole is a whizz. Up hill and everything.

Manager Hart is very well satisfied with the results to date. The course has been praised by a number of out-of-town players, as a real good one. Assisting Hart and acting as field man or overseer is "Doc" McBride, and "Doc" keeps an eagle eye on the entire surroundings. Mrs. "Hub" Hart is the custodian of the cash drawer. The add-on manager is Mose Manning, formerly with the New Castle Field Club, and a boy who came to the new Municipal Course highly recommended by everyone. Manning has a fine set of caddies on hand.

Big Crowd Labor Day Labor Day, weather permitting, should see a big crowd at the course. A holiday always brings out the golfers, the boys preferring to play golf rather than risk a trip over the heavy-trafficked roads. Manager Hart expects fully 200 or 300 to play the course next Monday.

Only temporary quarters are installed at the club house. It will take a little time to get everything in tip-top shape. Locker rooms, showers, and etc. The Hart family is moving into the big home.

It is only 50 cents to play the 18-holes. This is a low fee. New Castle golfers are fortunate in having a course the likes of the new Municipal.

Danceland Wins In Second Half

Wins Final Half Of The County League Season By Good Margin

Second half of the City-County League season has been completed and the Danceland team is the winner of that section of the season's schedule, while Energy won the first half of the season's schedule.

This means a small world series between Danceland and Energy teams for the championship of the league. According to present indications a series of five games will be arranged, the series to come to a close when either one of the contending aggregations has won three contests.

It looks like fast baseball when these two teams get together in this final elimination series, as Energy was the runner-up in the first half, and it looks as though it will take some talk playing to determine the winner. The final standing in the City-County League race follows:

Teams	W.	L.	Pct.
Danceland	10	3	.769
Energy	9	4	.692
West Pittsburgh	6	4	.600
Cascade A. C.	2	9	.181
Boro A. A.	1	8	.111

Singer Favored Over The "Keed"

Al Singer Will Win By Knockout Inside Of Five Rounds Says Sid Mercer

KID CHOCOLATE IS GOOD BOXER

By SID MERCER
International News Service Special Correspondent
NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—Picking a winner in the Chocolate-Singer fracas is strictly a hit-or-miss proposition.

It figures to be a fast, open fight; where one or two or three rapidly delivered punches may decide the issue.

The hapless "expert" who must place himself on record often gropes blindly. He has to figure from condition, and very often he is deceived by concealment of injuries or poor condition due to overtraining or the exigencies of weight making.

In picking Singer to win tonight, I am swayed not by prejudice against the colored boy—as some of my correspondents charge—but by the opinion that Al hits too hard for the keed, and the knowledge that he will be a lightweight by the time he enters the ring, while Chocolate is not likely to pick up more than a pound or two after going on the scales this afternoon.

Expect Big Crowd If both of these boys did not have much to recommend them there would be no big gate at the Polo Grounds tonight—and at this writing the bout promises to draw between 40,000 and 50,000 customers and gross as high as $250,000.

Here is the way I do it out: Singer by a knockout inside of five rounds and Chocolate by a decision or a knockout if it goes further.

But one must make a choice—get out on a limb, as it were—and after having watched both men in training I must go for Singer.

Regarding that young woman who has just been given a new palate, you might say she has an acquired taste.—The Canton Daily News.

Ceil Direct Wins Race Wednesday

Local Horse Proves One Of Real Classy Racers Of Fair Meeting

OTHER LOCAL HORSES ALSO IN MONEY

With the track in perfect condition, the first day's racing at the New Castle Fair proved unusually interesting, as the horses extended themselves and raced in fast time to win, and even went so far as to break the track trotting record.

An outstanding feature of the races was the efficient manner in which the races were started and decided. Custer Stands of Columbus, O., is the starting and presiding judge of the meeting, and his exercise of authority over the horsemen resulted in starts with little scoring on the part of the participants.

Assisting the presiding judge on Wednesday were Al Turner and A. Clyde Shoaf as judges, while the official timers were J. Ed. McWilliams, Bob Taylor and John Britton. Fast time was made in the first race of the day, the 2:24 trot, in which Bintrue, brown horse of D. H. Baker of Wooster, O., came in first in each of the three heats. The first two heats were taken with comparative ease by Bintrue, while in the last heat, after Bintrue had been forced out of his pole position at the first turn and Nella Vonia, entry of Dr. C. O. Brown of Youngstown, went into the lead and retained it until the stretch, when Bintrue showed his caliber and nosed his way to victory. Silent Fleet, bay mare of J. J. W. Morrow, well-known local horse, got into the money in two heats.

Ceil Direct Wins The 2:20 pace had more than the ordinary appeal to the throng of race enthusiasts at the Wednesday meet, because of the presence in the line-up of Ceil Direct, the fast-going sorrel mare of Crook & Whitedon. A fast and game mare, Ceil Direct, with Hunter holding the reins, won all three heats with comparative ease. The action of the winner was perfect and without a mistake on the part of the animal or her handler during all three heats. In fact, it appeared to be easy for the mare to win in this race event. Hollywood Shirley, entry of George Bennett of Cleveland, was the only real threat against the supremacy of Ceil Direct, and only in the third heat did the Cleveland mare come any way near winning. In fact, Ceil Direct is the best local racer seen here in years.

Not only did the mare win the pacing event, but she also won first prize Wednesday in the standard bred class in the horse exhibits, indicating something of her quality.

Track Record Broken The 2:18 trot was hotly contested and Zalmor Harvester, bay gelding, entry of George Fitzhouts of Homer City, Pa., won the first two heats, only to lose the third heat to David Frisco, entered by George Hunter of Youngstown, O. To win from David Frisco in the second heat, Palmer Harvester had to step the mile in 2:10 1-2, which broke the previous trotting record.

Church Teams Battle Tonight In Second Game

Central Presbyterians And First M. E. Play Second Game Of Series Tonight

The second game of the series to determine the championship of the New Castle church league will be played tonight at Centennial field. The game will start at 6:15 o'clock.

The Presbyterians won the first game of the series by a lopsided score. They hope to settle the matter tonight, but the First M. E. boys are feeling differently about it.

The Methodists will send their mound ace, Nat Honkemon, to the knoll and the Presbyterians will counter with Funkhouser.

The game promises to be an exciting one. Both teams are on edge.

Football Camp Is Thriving

Young Hopefuls At High Grid Camp Are Getting Plenty Of Good Hard Work

SUN-TAN COMES QUITE NATURAL

New Castle high school football players do not have to go to Atlantic City or some other popular resort to obtain that fashionable sun-tan color. There is plenty of sunshine at Muddy Creek Falls. The boys are tanned to perfection.

The boys, 40 of them, have been in camp since Monday. Two practice sessions have been held each day. The squad is fast assuming working order. Bridenbaugh sees to it that football is the most talked of subject at camp. The appetites of the boys have increased about double. Out in that good pure air of Muddy Creek Falls, the atmosphere seems to instill new life into one's being.

It is too early to tell the results of the practices. Only fundamental work is being given the boys at present. When they get back to town and start to train at Franklin field, the going will be tougher.

Coach Bridenbaugh is using McAuley, Art Alexander, McIntosh and Stamen in the first string backfield. Several of the rookie backfield men are showing class and may get a whirl at the ball-toting job.

The first-string line shows several new faces. Harlen Mooney, Bennie DiThomas, McIntosh, Deep, Bender, Ciccone and Cunningham make up the line. The first team is only temporary and there is not a single position cinched.

The material is very promising—green, but determined.

Donie Bush Through As Pirate Manager

Former Detroit American Star Fails To Make Grade At Pittsburgh

Jewel Ens Given Acting-Manager Job For Remainder Of Present Season

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Aug. 29.—Donie Bush, who has piloted the Pittsburgh Pirates for the past three years, Wednesday resigned as manager of the Smoky City aggregation. His resignation was to take effect immediately.

Ens, according to Dreyfuss, will probably be in charge of the club for the remainder of the present season. He has been a coach for a number of years, starting while Bill McKechnie, present pilot of the St. Louis Cardinals, was Buccaneer leader, and continuing in that capacity under Bush.

Bush's resignation was accepted by Barney Dreyfuss, president of the club, upon his return from the east Wednesday. No reason for Bush's action was given by the former leader of the Pirates which he led to a pennant in 1927.

Dreyfuss immediately named Jewel Ens, a coach, as acting manager. He directed the club when they clashed with the Chicago Cubs in a double bill Wednesday afternoon.

Neither Bush nor Dreyfuss would comment on the unexpected action other than to admit that the former pilot had tendered his resignation shortly after the club arrived home from the recent eastern invasion.

It has been rumored for some time that Bush was not satisfied with conditions here. He has been forced to endure the caustic razzing of local fans on a number of occasions this year and was unable to put a winning team in the field as the result of injuries to several of his stars, including Paul Waner, George Grantham and Burleigh Grimes.

It was also reported that during the recent disastrous losing streak of the Buccaneers on their eastern trip Bush was subjected to criticism on several occasions by the club owners.

Two Games Tonight In Mushball Loop

Lehigh-Phalanx Teams To Battle For First Place; News To Meet Haney

Two fast games are billed tonight in the New Castle Mushball League. The Lehigh-Phalanx game at the Lehigh field takes the limelight. The New Castle News team will play the Haney Furniture team at Colonial Field. Both games will start at 6:30 o'clock.

The game at the Lehigh field is for first place in the loop. Both teams have won five and lost none in the final round of play. A "red-hot" battle is looked for. Manager Flynn hopes for victory. Manager Bruce is confident. The News team hopes to emerge from their slump tonight and upset the Furniture men.

The popular seventh ward boy is deserving of a nice turnout for the battle. Huff next year will likely go South with the Cleveland Indians. "Jewie" Cohen, another New Castle product, is also with the Agathons.

Manager Alec Black is grooming Shields, his mound ace, for duty Saturday. If Shields is right the Agathons are going to look at some fine Rome flyers, will attempt a non-stop flight from New York to Russia some time within the near future, it was learned exclusively today by International News Service.

The two aces are said to have already selected the plane in which they will make the great adventure and will announce the tentative date of their departure as soon as possible.

Both men are interested spectators at the 1929 National Air Races here.

Pirates Defeat Chicago Twice

Pirates Inaugurate New Manager Into Office With Two Victories

FORBES FIELD, PITTSBURGH, Aug. 29.—The league leading Cubs felt the wrath of an infuriated Pittsburgh Pirate ball club yesterday at the Oakland ball orchard. The Pirates came from behind in both ends of a double bill to grab off victories. The scores were 10 to 3 and 7 to 6.

Former Manager Donie Bush must have a funny feeling as he watched the proceedings. His club had just finished a disastrous eastern invasion and here they were back at home and whaling the day lights out of the league leaders. Bush retired from the managerial post yesterday morning. Jewel Ems is acting manager.

Burleigh Grimes baffled the Cubs in the first hit and Remy Kremer and Steve Swetonic had the second game well in hand. The lead of the Cubs was out to 12 1/2 games. "Dickie" Bartell, Paul Waner, Lloyd Waner and Hargreaves had the line-up light as the Ensmen came through. Percy Malone was the Cub pitcher who suffered the most in the first game and four of five of the Cub hurlers went to the mound in the second game and none started but lasted second game in ninth. Penner tried it and failed. Carlson tried it and so did Guy Bush.

YOUNGSTOWN CENSUS DIRECTOR NAMED

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Aug. 29.—Attorney W. J. Williams, prominent in Republican political circles, was today given charge of the 1930 census for Mahoning county. He will be assisted by Mrs. G. I. Gardner, secretary of the Youngstown Federation of Women's Clubs.

Their First Series

Leading Pitchers Of Cubs And A's Have Never Figured In Diamond Classic

NOTHIN' WORRYING THE BIG BOY, SAYS ALEX

By NORMAN E. BROWN
Central Press Sports Writer
ST. LOUIS, Aug. 29.—Not one of the leading pitchers of either the Cubs or the Athletics has had any world's series experience. Not one of them has had any actual contact with the batters of the other league. So there's nothing to go on there in trying to dope out the pitching and what to expect when the teams meet.

Alexander has switched from the batting prospects of the series to the pitching, with the terse comment that it looks like a case of the survival of the fittest as far as the hurlers were concerned.

Guesswork Nowadays
"And even if you had anything tangible on which to weigh them, it would mean little for the simple reason that in these days of five hitting the game is taken out of the pitcher's hand with one hit."

"Walberg was with the Giants for a while, but that was six years or so ago. And he didn't see much actual service. I guess he broke into a couple of games. Charlie Root was with the St. Louis Browns. I think it was several years ago. But what little those fellows picked up there is of no account."

"Of course, both teams are going to have a general line on the opposition. The so-called dope on batters and pitchers is discussed off the field and you can learn quite a bit about the other fellow. But by and large the pitchers are going into the series faced with the necessity of feeling their way."

"Grove and Bush have hung up great records for their clubs. They may hold the same pace in a short series like the world's series. Should either one get away to a bad start, however, it will have considerable effect on the outcome of the series."

"As far as reserve pitching strength is concerned the teams are about evenly matched. Any club that has four pitchers, any one of whom can carry his end in the regular season, need not worry in a short series. Predicts Free Hitting Series."

"I look for a free hitting series, with the chances slight that there will be any 2 to 1 scores. This despite the fact that Grove, for Connie and Bush, the leading pitcher of the

BEAVER FALLS, Aug. 29.—Coacher Fiennik and Davies have plans completed for the opening of Geneva's football camp at Beaver Falls on Labor Day. The original plans for a camp on Lake Erie has been abandoned due to the unusually early Registration date at Geneva. Two practices a day will be held until the college convenes on September 10, when single sessions will prevail. The coaches are none too optimistic on the Covenanter's prospects. The places of Booth, Smith and Haude or the line will not be easily filled. The backfield problem is not so acute, but two giant backs, Pinkerton and Erick, will be missing. Other places should be filled from the fine backfield prospects who will report at the Covenanter camp. Coach Fiennik has his mind made up on two important changes, viz, taking Davies out of tackle and playing him in the back. The first move will add rugged strength to the backfield, something that was lacking in the Covenanter's offense and defense last year. The switching of Temerario, will not only provide a quarter who is thoroughly conversant with the McMullin system, still the basis for Geneva's style of play, but will allow Fiennik to use Ransom's ability all the time, he and Temerario sharing the center duties last year.

The center of Geneva's line is still intact—in addition to Ransom, Johnson and Goldberg, tackles, and Turpin and Hindman guards, reporting again. The ends of last year who saw much service are Red Seaburn and Kent Solo, both will return. They have a difficult task in replacing Booth and Smith, and much of the season's success will doubtless depend upon how they come through. In the backfield, veterans returning are John Knapik, great passer and kicker; Preece and Ewing, fine fullbacks. In addition there is Captain Davis who showed excellent promise in spring practice of being able to carry a ball and crack a line. Weigle and Gross, promising reserves of last year, should become regulars. Veteran reinforcements on the line are Harrison Pilska, ends; Ted Douglas, Stauffer and Snyder guards; Lewis center; Logue, tackle. New men who will report are McKee, Willard, Ohio Ventura and Rodemeyer. Peabody High school, McKinney, Wilkinsburg guards; Martin, Braddock, Pawlowski; Muskingum, McPhail, Hurst High Kelleher, Detroit, tackles; Ostrosky, New Castle, Roberts; Ridley, Park Duquesne, Weisburg, O. Pfeiffer, New Kensington, ends; Heltter, Monongahela, Frank Seaburn, Allentown Prep, center. New backfield prospects reporting are Guba, Clanton, Heffler, Willard, Ohio; Wiant and

Pittsburgh Team Comes To Life

Pirates Drop Cubs Twice; Athletics Defeat Yanks At Stadium Wednesday

GOSLIN SETS NEW FREAK RECORD

By HENRY McLEMORE
International News Service Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK, N. Y., Aug. 29.—Pittsburgh's Pirates are thoughtful and considerate. If nothing more.

For busy as they are in their seeming determination to see just how far they can descend before the National race draws to a close they took time off yesterday to give their new manager a boost in the eyes of Boss Barney Dreyfuss. The boost was in the nature of two well-directed kicks at the Chicago Cubs and both took effect.

As a result the Chicagoans are leading but by twelve and one-half games today and Mr. Ems must look exactly like what the doctor ordered to Dreyfuss. The Bucs were forced to come from behind in both engagements. Trailing at 3 to 1 at the fifth inning of the opener they assaulted Malone for five runs in the sixth and four more in the seventh, to give Burleigh Grimes his seventeenth win of the season. The second game was pulled out of the fire by three runs in the seventh and two more in the eighth for a 7 to 6 victory. This despite Roger Hornsby's thirtieth homer of the year.

Many Clubs Idle
All other National clubs enjoyed a holiday from regularly scheduled games. The Giants, however, traveled to Bridgeport and whipped that Eastern League club, 6 to 4.

The Athletics left New York for home with an even break in their two-game series with the Yankees, copping the final yesterday, 9 to 7. A five run rally in the seventh did the A's cause no harm. Babe Ruth smacked his thirty-sixth home run, Gehrig his twenty-eighth and Larry his fourth during the afternoon.

Late inning rallies being the order of the day, Washington scored three times in the eighth inning to whip Boston, 7 to 4 in the only other game in the American.

Goose Goslin probably set some sort of record when his home run cleared the fence and dislocated a shoulder of a girl in a nearby yard.

Pony Race
One of the features of the afternoon at the track was the pony race for boys under 16 years of age and for a distance of a quarter of a mile. This furnished some real excitement. Sam Fowler and his entry won the event, but had to battle it out until near the finish line with Audley Gibson, who finished second on his mount. The time in which the quarter mile was made was announced as 32 seconds.

Slovaks Defeat Danceland 11-3

Coates Bests VanEman In Hurling Duel At Clifton Flats Field

Danceland, leaders in City-County league, were no match for the Slovaks of the Lawrence County league in a game played at the Clifton Flats field on Wednesday night. The score was 11 to 3.

The Slovaks found VanEman in the first inning for five runs and came back in the next three innings to score six more runs, two each frame. Coates and VanEman were the hurlers, the former having the best of the argument.

It was the fifth straight victory for the Slovaks. Fundoots with a home run featured the game, while A. Mahalic and J. Mahalic also hit timely for the Slovaks. Gall and Pannell were the heavy hitters for the Danceland team.

Friday night the Slovaks met Wampum at the Flats field. This game was scheduled for Saturday, but has been moved ahead one day to accommodate both teams.

Reporter, Aroused By Noise, Puzzled—Only Graf Zeppelin

An uncanny noise, strange and weird, and becoming louder and more insistent.

It surely must be a fire thought the writer at about 2 a. m. this morning. Still a very unusual fire with so much noise and roar and no smoke or flames and most conspicuous of all, no fire department.

Such a peculiar noise must be explained and so the writer called from his third story window to a man on the street. "What is it?" "The Graf Zeppelin," he called back. "See it now north east of the city?"

The dark shape in the sky could be seen dimly but could still be heard very distinctly.

The writer turned over and went to sleep. He was glad it was the Graf Zeppelin and not the sky falling down.

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations Of Interesting Things Around New Castle

From now on the Chamber of Commerce can claim that New Castle is on the direct short route from Tokyo to New York. Dr. Hugo Zekker proved it this morning at about 2 a. m., and the city is divided into two camps today, the ones who did and the ones who didn't see it. And for the rest of the week will have to listen to accounts of how it looked.

Bill Haskins said it flew right over his house at about two hundred feet elevation. Harry Bell puts it at 200 feet, but then a hundred feet or so among friends is really nothing to start arguing about.

The point is the Graf went over the city, but as far as I'm concerned, Zekker could have moored his big ship to the monument on the square, and I never would have known a thing about it until today. Two o'clock in the morning is no time to be out looking for Graf Zeppelins.

Dave Lewis, down on Long avenue, thought the Dr. Zekker was just returning a call. When the Graf arrived at Lakeside from Friedrichshafen, a couple of weeks ago, Dave was on hand to see the doctor. Turn about and all that sort of thing.

It may have been that the passengers on board the ship wanted to get a look at the New Castle Fair. And you couldn't blame them much for that.

The Weather Man changed his mind early this morning about the weather for the fair today and shortly before noon it looked promising. Which means a hard fast track, plenty of weather for the exhibits, and should mean a crowd.

You may notice that the traffic on the Harlanburg road is being handled efficiently. You can mark this down to the credit of the State Highway Patrol. Two or three of

The colyum is bound to be short today. All the roaming done in one place, the fair, and the account of that is seen in other colyums.

One place, or rather several places out at the fair intrigue me. The palmists. Those swarthy skinned, mysterious looking women who look at your hand and tell you your past, present and future. Whether to buy steel or sell motors, whether you will be married inside of the next forty-six years, and what you had for breakfast.

If I thought one of them could have told me who was going to win that race between Myrtle Baxter and Worthy Lord this afternoon I would have risked half a dollar.

J. W. Hartwell claims he goes the palmists one better. He modestly admitted to the boys Wednesday that Worthy Lord would run the ears off Myrtle Baxter or words to that effect.

He owns Worthy Lord.

WOMAN IS VICTIM OF EXCESS CAUTION

READING, Pa., Aug. 29.—Mrs. Deborah Herb, Stonersville woman, whose buggy was hit by the automobile of Albert B. Shaneman, this city, on August 1, resulting in the woman's death, was a victim of excess caution, according to the testimony of her son, Homer Herb, 14, at a coroner's inquest here. The boy said his mother asked him to drive on the wrong side of the road, "because we always walk on that side." Shaneman was exonerated of blame.

Stomach And Other Troubles Yield Quickly When New Compound Is Given A Test.

MR. PAUL ANGEHR

"I tried in vain to find relief from stomach and liver troubles and constipation," said Mr. Paul Angehr, 3100 Black Horse Pike, West Collingswood, near Philadelphia, Penn. "I derived little good from my food. It seemed to lay in a solid mass in my stomach. Gas pains and flatulency followed every meal."

"Just three bottles of Konjola made a new man of me. I ate and slept more luxuriously, can eat anything I like, and my complexion is now clear. And, moreover, I am gaining weight and strength day by day. Surely Konjola deserves to be called the most honest medicine."

Konjola is sold in New Castle, Pa., at Love & Sisson, drug store and by all the best druggists in all the towns throughout this entire section.

OUCH!

A schoolmaster attempting to teach a class of boys the composition of sentences said to them: "If I ask you, 'What have I in my hand?' You must not answer 'Chalk' but compose a complete sentence such as: 'You have a piece of chalk in your hand. Now we will continue. What have I on my feet?'"

"Boys!" was the immediate answer. "Wrong!" You haven't listened to my directions. "Shoes!" came the next suggestion. "You're quite wrong," said the teacher, "guess again!" "Stockings!" "No, not 'Try again!'" "Socks!" "Wrong again! worse than ever!" "Well?" as another pupil raised his hand. "Please sit!" Then he paused. Perhaps he thought his answer might seem funny, but convinced that it was right he blurted recklessly: "Corn!"
